St. Albert & Sturgeon

Vol. 19 No. 13 Wednesday, March 29, 1978

The child explosion has hit St. Albert again, with Easter holidays and the lovely spring weather bringing them outdoors. These three children undertook a somewhat dangerous sport of skateboarding, down the steep hill on Boudreau Road. While this practise is not illegal, (yet), children are reminded to take special care and caution to avoid accidents.

Back to basics not the answer Jamison tells meeting of ATA locals

Addressing a joint meeting of the two St. Albert Locals of the Alberta Teachers Association on March 22, M.L.A. Ernie Jamison emphasized five particular positions. He feels the primary education system is improving and he is not an advocate of back to the basics, he called for more emphasis on reading and writing skills and stressed the equal importance of the humanities, the arts and physical education. On the financial side he saw the major goal as keeping inflation under control, and he stated his opinion that unions should not see their role only as the adversaries of management or government. "I feel both sides must work more as a team than as adversaries," Mr. Jamison told the meeting.

Mr. Jamison said at the outset that he did not consider himself an expert on education - "given the complexities of the modern education system, which is continually adapting to changes in society, to be fully informed would require almost full time study" he said.

He expressed his opinion that basic education is definately improving. Mr. Jamison based this conclusion on his observations of two children who have completed basic education, taking high school in the mid sixties, and after some work experience, going on to university - and of his third child, presently a grade four student. "I believe my nine year old is being better educated than the older two were at that level."

In his opinion the M.L.A. said, this improvement has come about because educators have found that such young students can absorb more difficult information than was thought to be the case 15 - 20 years ago. "This would suggest to me that the curriculum is improved, and that teachers and modern materials are combining to steadily upgrade primary education, Mr. Jamison said.

"Therefore I am not one of those who have jumped on the band wagon to get back to something called the basics. However, as a businessman, I must say that I am worried about young people applying for a position on a newspaper who cannot spell, and who use poor grammar and sentence structure in letters of application." Mr. Jamison stressed that students must be able to read all types of material and to understand it well - and that this ability should be emphasized as well as writing skills. He noted that

Budget struck in Dist. 6

Board members voted 3-2 to accept a budget totalling $8,262,669 including a $120,000 surplus at the Protestant School Board's regular meeting March 22.

In opposing the budget, Board Chairman, Ernie Wynychuk and Trustee, Shirley McCaffery both said they feared the restraint reflected in dollar terms would manifest itself in a lowering of services to students and thus effect the 'quality of education'.

Neither would have agreed to the earliest budget draft which would have increased taxes 13 mills (or about $120/homeowner) but felt taxes could have been higher than the five mill increase called for in the new budget in the interest of education. Trustee McCaffery put it, "If you want a quality; that's what you'll have to put up with."

The concern over decreased educational service to students comes from an increase in the pupil/teacher ratio from 20:1 to 20.75:1.

The Board members in support of Finance Chairman Gary Hodgins motions to adopt said they too were not 'happy' with the move to a higher ratio but felt it was the only direction they could head with a reasonable requisition from St. Albert taxpayers. The combined factors of a forthcoming drop in Provincial Government requisition equilization payments, and lack of industrial

Penner berates province's funding

Trustee Wes Penner took time during the discussion of the Protestant School Board 1978-79 Budget to assault the Provincial Government's failure to attach a high priority to education.

He pointed out the relatively low increase in Foundation grants (12%), the recent provincial government resistence to increase U of A funding and the 6 - 7% guidelines on wage increases in the public sector (which affects teachers salaries).

Dr. Penner was speaking in reference to the last two months trustees spent 'agonizing' over the District budget in which they were faced with ensuring the highest possible quality of education is offered, keeping taxes at a reasonable rate and maintaining the morale of the teaching staff at as high a level as possible - "all in the face of a provincial government which doesn't assign a particularly high priority to education.'

Dr. Penner said the provinces stance fairly accurately reflected the 'spirit of the times' - that education isn't really all that important, relatively speaking: that relative to other agencies and institutions we're really second rate citizens.

He pointed out the difference in attendance at a Board meeting in comparison with a hockey game or even a city council meeting. The Board meetings with next to none, city council slightly more and the hockey games far exceeding both. If the attendance was an index of interest and appreciation he would have to interpret the public to be saying that education isn't all that im-

LUTHERAN PASTOR Ray Christenson (right) leads early morning Easter Sunday worshippers in their Christ is Risen greeting on the Sturgeon River Bridge last Easter Sunday morning.

"Christ is Risen" echoed downtown

About 200 people from all faiths in St. Albert met close to the Sturgeon Bridge early Easter Sunday morning to exchange the traditional Christian greeting "Christ is Risen," "He is Risen Indeed."

Many rose at about 6:30 a.m. to get down to the bridge for the 7 a.m. ceremony where Lutheran pastor Ray Christenson began the short service.

After everyone shook hands after converging on the bridge, Father Jake Joly read out the Easter gospel of the resurrection near a small cross erected on a seat across from the St. Albert Gazette office.

After this, people moved to the St. Albert Community Hall for coffee provided by the Knights of St. Columbus; here they warmed up.

Weather for St. Albert's second annual Easter greeting on the Sturgeon River Bridge was chilly, damp and dull, but did not dampen down the Easter spirit which was so evident.

ATA locals meeting universities are also expressing their concern at having to improve reading and writing skills before students can get on with their courses.

"However," said Mr. Jamison, "I feel it is essential that strong programs in art, music, physical education and the humanities, be supported by government and by teachers."

In the area of science, Mr. Jamison referred to a recent public service television program on genetic research in which an American scientist warned of the dangers of educating scientists and engineers "too narrowly."

The MLA thought it most important "in this highly technological age that the common people are kept informed of the rapid advances being made. School children need a strong awareness that education is a lifelong process," he said.

"I believe that it is essential that our children are awakened to the great rewards that music, literature and the arts can bring to their lives - as opposed to mere fun seeking pursuits."

Still on education matters, Mr. Jamison added that he feels enriched history education should be part of the basic education program, "to develop a needed sense of belonging."

Speaking to his audience as union members and himself as a government member, Mr. Jamison got to the nitty gritty of "funds for education - a large proportion of which go for salaries and wages."

Saying he fully supported the view of long-term planning by governments, he said he was in complete agreement with the Heritage Trust Fund and would never support spending our resource surplus now, without thought for the future. "I am in complete agreement with the premier when he reminds Albertans that despite our riches, we are not an island - and with Provincial Treasurer Merv Leitch when he warns that inflation will never be brought under control by building cost-of-living increases into wage settlements."

The province has, in this year's budget, increased total assistance to schools by 6.5%, said Mr. Jamison - which is under the inflation rate. He also gave figures where extra funds have been provided in six special areas of education.

Mr. Jamison thought that savings in education can be made in the area of administration, adding that in conversations with teachers in both Alberta and British Columbia the teachers concurred with this view.

Saying that he was aware of militant attitudes of some A.T.A. members in demanding 9% or more increases this year, the MLA asked his audience to consider the effects on themselves of uncontrolled inflation. Inflation is like a form of taxation which removes money from our pockets in the same way, he said. He also asked them to consider the effects of unchecked inflation on their teacher's pensions.

"And what happens to the inflation rate if your government does not take extreme care not to overheat the Alberta economy to a dangerous extent?"

In closing, Mr. Jamison asked if the ATA would be interested in conducting a study into the high rate of suicide among young people, saying he would support a special government grant for such a project. "Teachers have our young people under observation for a large part of the time," he noted.

Mr. Jamison also felt that unions need not see their role only as adversaries of management or government, but felt a team approach is more effective.

Following the formal part of the meeting, Mr. Jamison said he enoyed talking to Vice-President Len Bracko and ATA representative David Flower on many interests of ATA members, including communications. He also fielded a variety of questions on the approach of the provincial government to education.

Local man completes Forces pilot training

Second Lieutenant (2Lt) M. F. Pratt, 21, of St. Albert, Alberta recently completed pilot training at Number Two Canadian Forces Flying Training School, Canadian Forces Base (CFB) Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan. He was presented with his wings on graduation parade, January 27, 1978 by Major General G. A. MacKenzie, deputy commander of Air Command.

2Lt Pratt joined the Service in June, 1976 under the Officer Cadet Training Plan, following graduation from high school. He received his wings following 15 months of intensive training on the Beechcraft Musketeer and Tutor jet trainer.

2Lt Pratt now proceeds to CFB Portage La Prairie, Manitoba for conversion training on the Kiowa helicopter.

tax base in the immediate future at least would mean that 'overspending this year would mean even higher taxes next year.'

Finance Chairman Hodgins referred to his effort to bring in a three year budget that will help prevent the Board's spending getting out of control in a 'snowballing' effect by showing restraint this year.

Trustee Wes Penner asked District Superintendent Elmer Gish to review the implications of the increased pupil/teacher ratio and Mr. Gish was told it would mean: an increase toward maximum instructional time (the present contract calls for the teachers to be in the classroom a maximum of 23½ hours/week), a reduction in teacher preparation and coordinating time, some reduction in administrative time depending upon the staff each principal receives and whether or not the school is a new one (new schools may need more administrative time as the 'bugs are ironed out'), a problem in the area of french instruction to grades four, five and six which may see this service restricted to the grade six level only, less reliance on specialists in music instruction with a greater reliance on general instruction by the classroom teacher.

The superintendent added that the full effect will not be known until staffing is completed sometime before the end of June. He added that some elementary classes in the district were at a small size now, as low as 20, because of a policy of avoiding split-grade classes.

Mr. Gish pointed out that he had taught multi-grade classes for several years himself and had found them to have many advantages for students. He said the Board might look at the possibility setting up some split classes as a pilot project in light of educational studies which agreed with his personal experience.

Another point Mr. Gish felt the Board should consider was the fact that previous Boards had operated in the recent past on a ratio of 21:1 and that the 20.75:1 figure represented a decrease from this level. He felt the district at present was educationally rich and diversified in relation to several others and that a low pupil growth rate was predicted for the coming year making implementation of the new ratio less difficult than it might otherwise appear.

The three budget-supporting trustees - Hodgins, Friese and Penner - felt the Board's best position was the approach suggested by the higher ratio and lower taxes. It was to the Board's advantage to understaff (if that is the case) rather than overstaff and not be able to cut back later when contracts are signed.

If the present course appears to lead to negative implications the Board would have the option of reviewing the situation in the Fall at which time it would still be possible to hire in light of the surplus of teachers on the market.

Dr. Penner feels the public must appeal to the provincial government to reasign its priorities to include education thus assigning it greater support.

"As I see it," said trustee Penner, "the Provincial Government is giving us the responsibility of facing the teachers and the public with the task of striking a budget with only a meagre, inadequate amount with which to do it. That is, as our responsibility increases our financial power base is being evaded."

Pitch and Spice to hold bottle drive

The St. Albert Pitch and Spice are hoping that St. Albert will open their generous hearts on Tuesday, April 4, because on that day, beginning shortly after supper, their members will be involved in an all out bottle drive.

Pitch and Spice, who's 'soul' purpose is to bring peace and harmony (to the world) by way of their concerts, are a non-profit organization and have pleased many people since their beginning in 1967.

The group is planning a concert tour of Alaska, playing at a mass in Whitehorse, as well as an evening concert there. They will then visit Dawson City, Fairbanks and Anchorage, where they will stage another evening concert. Then the group will move to Valdez for a short cruise on the ocean.

About 100 'young adults' will be taking in the tour, which will involve a great deal of financial assistance. They will appreciate all donations of bottles next Tuesday. The cost has been offset somewhat, by having the members billeted in the various places they will be visiting.

Your suggestions could help us improve on the job safety.

The Occupational Health and Safety Division of Alberta Labour is developing and revising regulations associated with the OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY ACT (R.S.A. Chapter 40, 1976).

Current regulations that are being reviewed are:

- occupational hygiene and medical aspects of:
  - noise
  - lead and lead compounds
  - fibrogenic dusts
- first aid requirements at work sites
- safety regulations covering general accident prevention; construction, petroleum, natural gas and lumbering operations and the use of explosives.

New regulations being developed include:

- sanitation at the work site
- ventilation
- lighting
- standards for airborne contaminants
- standards for Occupational Health Services
- occupational hygiene and medical aspects of:
  - asbestos, benzene, vinyl chloride monomer, carbon monoxide, mercury, temperature extremes, lifting

We are anxious to streamline and clarify our regulations to make them as manageable as possible.

Around Town

A city employee who took a slightly dog-matic attitude to a canine problem now has a more hard-bitten outlook on his work. A friend who dropped by the Gazette told us of the incident and we offer it here, probably to the chagrin of the dogcatcher. As it happened, a Sturgeon resident summoned the city official to deal with a nasty-minded German Shepherd who had been harassing himself and his family. The villainous animal had forced the complainant to take refuge on his car roof to avoid some flashing teeth; had menaced his mother-in-law and pursued a departing guest. Feeling he had enough of the cantankerous canine, he summoned the dog-catcher to the scene. However, the complainant was then informed the dog would have to make another attack before charges could be levelled. In the meantime, the dogcatcher headed over to the home of the dog's owner, to request that the dog be confined to its own property. At this point, he unfortunately got first-hand (leg?) evidence on the animal's animosity. It promptly sunk its teeth into his leg, an injury which required a trip to the hospital! On the brighter side, however, we can rest assured that the requirements of the law have been met by the second attack and that justice is presently being served!

Association pushes accessibility to new pool for handicapped

New pool due for May 31st

As all of St. Albert looks forward to the opening of the new pool, the Steering Committee for the St. Albert Association for the Handicapped are attempting to ensure that all city residents will be able to enjoy use of the facility.

On Wednesday, March 22, members of the committee met with Bernie March, of the Department of Parks and Recreation, and representatives of Phillips Barrett, consulting engineers, to see how accessible the Fountain Park Pool will be to St. Albert's handicapped citizens.

Unfortunately, since the pool is so close to completion, major structural changes could not be considered and access will be limited to the main floor of the building. People in wheelchairs will not be able to go downstairs to the racquet ball courts, fitness area, and health club or upstairs to the mezzanine viewing area. However, access will be available to the change rooms, pools, and the spectator areas for the pools.

Hopefully a gate will be added at the entry for people who have difficulty with turnstiles. One large change cubicle is available in the women's change area and changes could be made to the one large cubicle in the men's washroom to allow privacy for changing.

Requests were also made for skeleton wheelchairs, additional benches and the provision of handrails from the change and shower areas to the pool and in the sauna.

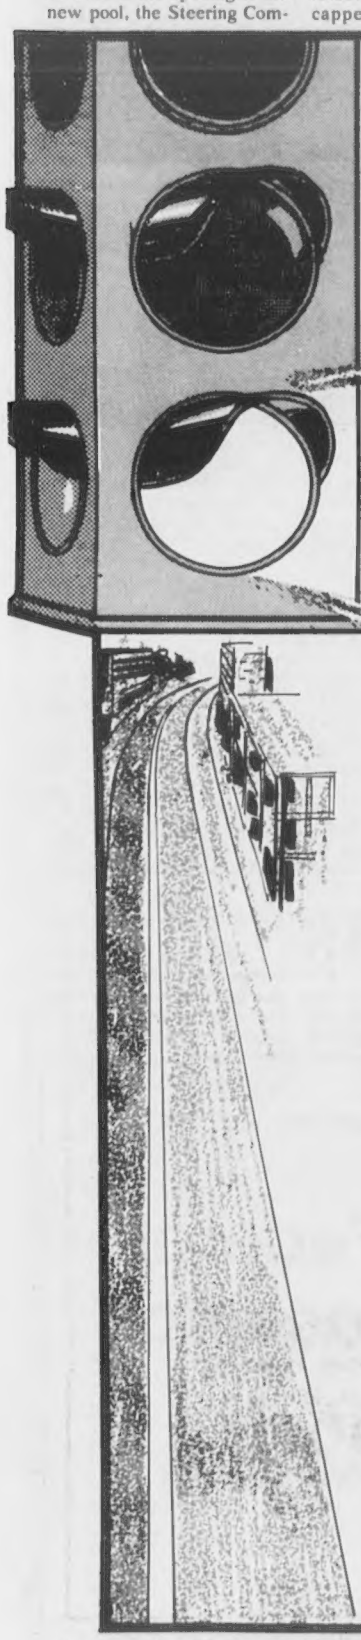
The smaller pool has steps for entry but in the large pool only ladders will be provided. However, the water level will be flush with the deck which should ease entry somewhat. A heated bench along the side of the deck area should be appreciated by all pool users.

The committee also hopes that additional handrail supports can be provided to ease traversing the pool deck.

The pool area has a complex sound system involving approximately 40 speakers. If the sound can be directed from one end of the pool, when necessary, it would help orient visually impaired swimmers.

The representatives from Phillips Barrett expect to have estimates for the proposed additions within two weeks and then the additional costs must be approved by city council.

On Monday, March 20 Rod Throndson distributed a list of the steering committee's concerns to council members.



If you are planning to build, excavate or plant on property along an Alberta highway...

GET THE GREEN LIGHT BEFORE YOU GO AHEAD

Your plans may be as simple as putting up a granary or planting a hedge — or as ambitious as constructing a home, airstrip or pipeline. On the other hand, you may require a new access or changes in an existing access to a primary highway. Large or small, if your plans extend to within one-half mile (800 metres) of a primary Alberta highway, they are subject to the terms of the PUBLIC HIGHWAYS DEVELOPMENT ACT.

This Act protects not only the public investment in Alberta's highway system but your own investment in the development of your property. It is designed to prevent present or future physical conflict between development and highway, and to insure there are no adverse effects to traffic safety.

So, check your plans. YOU REQUIRE PERMITS. They are your green light!

If you are planning any kind of development within one-half mile of a primary Alberta highway, get your approval permits before you go ahead.

TRANSPORTATION

April is Traffic Safety Month

The dates April 1 through April 30 have been established throughout Canada as "Traffic Safety Month."

The theme for the 1978 campaign is 'Traffic Safety Awareness.'

During 1977, motor vehicle accidents in Alberta accounted for 602 deaths, a total far surpassing all previous yearly figures.

Alberta Safety Council believes that traffic accidents can be reduced in this province if we are made aware of the high risk environment that we live in. To minimize the high risk associated with vehicle driving, we need to know about traffic safety and how it can help reduce the risk.

Driver education has proven to be one of the most effective instruments available in the reduction of traffic accidents. The Alberta Safety Council's Defensive Driving Course has graduated 76,811 individuals since its inception in January, 1966. During 1977, 10,366 persons took this training within the province.

In order to provide this course to a greater number of drivers, the Alberta Safety Council requires Community organizations to sponsor these courses along with individuals to become Instructors within the program. Further information can be provided by contacting the Council in Edmonton, 10526 Jasper Avenue, T5J 1Z7, Phone 428-7555.

Want to have a rollicking evening? Read on! Would you believe a pool table is one of the many attractive items to come under the hammer at the forthcoming Wine and Cheese Auction?

This event is sponsored by the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club of St. Albert with proceeds going to the Sturgeon General Hospital. A generous St. Albert Merchant donated the regulation size pool table. It adds to the growing stockpile of merchandise already collected by the executive from other benevolent businessmen of the city.

The inventory list includes trees and shrubs, carpet cleaning, punch bowl set, hair blow dryer, car seat cover, eye glass frames, purses, travel bags and Alberta Heritage history books.

Not to be overlooked are the numerous articles to be brought by the Newcomers themselves. Macrame, ceramics, handicrafts and plants are sure to be seen. (even a brand new pressure cooker donated by an anonymous Newcomer who is apprehensive of the powers of steam)!

So, you think drunk driving is funny.

There's nothing funny about a person who drinks too much and then drives. But there is something funny about how surprised such drivers are when they're caught. In fact, you should see the look on their faces after we charge them with impaired driving. Because, once we charge anyone with impaired driving we take them "back to the station." And, like everyone else charged under the criminal code they have to arrange their own release. One more thing. Under the law licence suspensions are mandatory for impaired drivers. There are no exemptions, no "special licences" for driving to work. Suspension is always absolute.

Sound tough? Not really. You see CHECK STOP isn't aimed at people who've had a couple of drinks while enjoying themselves. CHECK STOP is aimed at people who drink too much and then drive. A few of them are so drunk they can barely turn the key in their ignition. However, most impaired drivers look sober — but are only fooling themselves. Don't let them fool you. Watch for the kind of peole you should stop before they get behind a wheel.

You know who we mean. And, you know how they act.

Please. CHECK STOP can catch fools who drink too much and drive. But only you can stop them before they turn the key.

Think twice.

CHECK STOP

It's really up to you.

Elzinga presses for mail service

Peter Elzinga, Member of Parliament for Pembina, has requested that the Postmaster General inaugurate door-to-door mail delivery for the areas of his constituency that do not now have it.

In the House of Commons, on Friday, March 10, Mr. Elzinga asked the Postmaster General whether there wer any plans to lift the present freeze on hiring additional postal carriers.

The Postmaster General replied that, in line with Federal Policy, expanded letter-carrier service and the extension of existing service has been deferred for an indefinite period.

Mr. Elzinga commented that many of the rapidly growing areas of his constituency are presently without door-to-door mail delivery and that residents of the City of St. Albert, the hamlet of Sherwood Park and the Town of Fort Saskatchewan had all expressed a desire for such service. Mr. Elzinga feels that, since people in these areas are now paying for such postal service, they are entitled to receive it. On a previous occasion, he was successful in obtaining additional mail carriers for the Millwoods area in his Pembina riding.

Postal service in Canada has been going steadily downhill for the past 10 years said Mr. Elzinga, and he feels that immediate steps must be taken to restore the system to its former efficiency. The Progressive Conservative Party has been asking the Trudeau government to conduct an independent study of Canada's deteriorating postal situation but it has stubbornly refused to act. Instead of finding solutions to this serious problem, the government has seen fit to shuffle the Postmaster Generals six times in 10 years which clearly demonstrates that it is important and erratic in its handling of such a fundamental service.

Mr. Elzinga added that, as a result of this inefficiency, the Progressive Conservative Party has instituted a special study of the Post Office in an effort to get at the root causes of the continuing postal problems. The main purpose of this study is to come up with recommendations to make Canada Post a more efficient, reliable and effective public service, as well as to consider ways and means for the Post Office to work in partnership with the private sector.

Guess what a radiation enhancement weapon is

The National Council of Teachers of English in the U.S.A. have for five years been giving annual Doublespeak Awards to those in public life who have most conspicuously polluted the English language in the more or less calculated way which George Orwell called "doublespeak." In Orwell's book "1984" doublespeak was the language of the dreaded Bib Brother. Melvin Maddocks, Christian Science Monitor columnist says the term doublespeak may be defined as the deceptive use of words so that they are twisted perversely into saying something different than they were invented to say, and eventually emptied of meaning.

The English Teachers gave first prize this year to the Pentagon for referring to the neutron bomb (with its gift for destroying people but not property) as a "radiation-enhancement weapon."

The CIA was awarded second prize for dignifying its experiments in behaviour modification under the title: "The Society for the Investigation of Human Ecology."

The Council of Teachers of English does the public a good service in bringing out what is happening to our language. Everyone needs to be on the alert or we will reach the point when we don't question what we are really hearing from the experts of people in public life. Giving one's word - once all that was needed will not longer have any meaning.

How about the U.S. Government calling bombing raids in the Vietnam was "Pacification Missions?"

Closer to home when did we get away from caring for the sick to "Delivery of Health Care Services?"

Baggage conveyor contract awarded

Edmonton-Transport Canada has awarded a $78,880 contract for installation of a new baggage conveyor system at the air terminal building of the Edmonton International Airport.

This system, consisting of two new baggage belt dispensers, will carry baggage from flights arriving in Edmonton.

Date of completion is July 5.

The conveyor system is part of a $471,000 interim plan to improve the efficiency of the Canadian customs area at the airport.

The successful bidder was Mathews Conveyor Company of Port Hope, Ont.

Think small

Politics and Fraud

If you deceive people to get their money, the law calls it fraud. But if you deceive people to get their votes, that's known as politics. The only real difference between fraud and politics is that it's often easier to con the voter.

Confidence men (and, in this age of sexual equality, women) play on the victim's willingness to be deceived. Greed is the con man's stock in trade. And nowhere is there more greed to be found than in the way Canadians regard government.

Canadians think of government as a cornucopia of free public benefits. Government is expected to provide pension benefits that exceed the actuarial value of the amounts contributed. Government is expected to provide income for unemployed workers who do not wish to work. Government is expected to provide education far beyond the level that is useful to society. Government is expected to provide bigger libraries, more art galleries, grants to opera, ballet and travelling rock bands and bigger, more lavish parks. Above all, government is expected to do all this for free.

The public hates to hear the truth. Politicians running on platforms of fiscal restraint have the same odds on survival as a mouse in a cat factory.

The best things in life may well be free – but they aren't provided by government. Only ten years ago, one-third of every dollar earned went to government; today, government grabs about 42 cents out of every dollar. Not only is government spending more; it's spending a larger share of what we earn.

The real costs are enormous. Private businesses have been absorbed by government. Workers know the state will keep them if they can't find suitable employment so business has trouble recruiting competent help. Higher taxes to pay for family allowances, pensions, health care and unemployment benefits lead to higher prices and wages as employers and employees struggle to protect themselves from shrinking profits and take-home pay packets; under these conditions, it doesn't take long for Canadian business to price itself out of world markets. Worse yet, the majority of government spending schemes are indexed so that costs increase faster than tax revenues. The federal deficit for the next year will be about $14 billion – and there's no relief from the deficit budgeting in sight.

Recently, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business submitted a brief on Canada's industrial future to the federal and provincial governments. The message was simple: Canada cannot become a strong industrial nation until all Canadians once again become more self-reliant, free from the dependence on government "gifts".

The unfortunate part of a welfare state is that adults as well as children believe in Santa Claus.

"Think small" is an editorial message from the Canadian Federation of Independent Business

AMERICA FACING NEW "CUBAN MISSILE THREAT."
From United Press International

The United States may be headed for a "Cuban Missile Crisis" of 1978 with Soviet Strategic missiles already on the island, a London newspaper said this week.

"The Russians are building a pen for their nuclear submarines in the Cuban port of Cienfuegos," the Daily Telegraph said. "There is a strong suspicion that Soviet strategic missiles have already been smuggled back to Cuba."

It was a Russian attempt to station such missiles on the island which touched off a confrontation between former president John F. Kennedy and then premier Nikita Krushev in 1962.

MINISTERS NEED MEMORY MEDICINE?

The following item appeared in the March 20 edition of Hansard, the official record of House of Commons Debates, under the section for Inquiry of the Ministry; subtitled "Committee of Medical Men to Study Alleged Forgetfulness of Cabinet Members – Motion under Standing Order 43."

Mr. Elmer M. MacKay (Central Nova): Mr. Speaker, I rise on a matter of urgent and pressing necessity pursuant to the provisions of Standing Order 43. In view of the discovery of a substance which is supposed to perform miraculous cures for senility and loss of memory, as noted in recent publications describing the work of Douglas Hospital's geriatric division, I move, seconded by the hon. member for Halton-Wentworth, (Mr. Kempling):

That this House form a select committee of qualified medical practitioners, of whom there are several in this august chamber, to administer choline pills to the Prime Minister and those of his cabinet who have demonstrated great difficulty, and in some cases, a complete inability in recalling matters relating to so-called national security matters, income tax, immigration, dredging, nuclear exports, finance – indeed, those matters which in lieu of a meaningful freedom of information act they would ordinarily be expected to recall for the edification of the House and the people of Canada.

Energy symposium paints gloomy picture of Canada and Canadians

A two-day symposium on energy resources held in Calgary last October presented a rather gloomy picture. Speakers repeatedly emphasized that by the late Eighties energy shortages would really begin to hurt and that decisions must be taken and action begun very soon.

"Too many people," said Carl Nickle, president of Conventures Ltd. of Calgary, a man with an international reputation as a petroleum authority, "seem unaware of the seriousness of future energy problems. Canadians must consider the consequences of a world - and a Canada - crippled by a shortage of energy. Food production would dwindle, transportation would be gravely hampered and productive capacity would be progressively destroyed with consequent massive unemployment, social unrest and political upheaval.

Ron Dalby, chancellor of the University of Alberta and president of R. N. Dalby and Associates Ltd., also painted a glum picture of Canada and Canadians - possibly shocking enough to produce some badly needed changes in attitude.

Mr. Dalby called Canada a "comfortable country which is currently adrift on a sea of fantasy, frustrations and futility." There was more: "We Canadians are fat, lazy, indolent and overpaid." He could see little indication that Canadians wanted to become more productive or to demand better management of both business and government. "We are ignoring major economic problems, relying on government at various levels to take care of them."

Two other speakers emphasized the lead-time required to make any energy-producing project active. Alex Hart, senior CN - Vice President told his audience that if a proposal to build a rail line from the Arctic coastline to a point below the perma frost was authorized, it would take seven years to construct the 770-mile stretch. Ross Campbell, chairman of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, said that a seven-year span was also required to build a nuclear generating facility and get it into operation.

Mr. Dalby saw Canada's best hope of carrying out the critical energy development required as lying with the drive and expertise of the private sector, but stated that government has increasingly created an atmosphere destructive of individual initiative.

Day Care society to elect officers April 5

Creative play facilities will soon be available to the St. Albert Day Care Centre. This spring, the new playground is to be delivered for installation as soon as the weather permits.

This latest project of the St. Albert Day Care Society will provide a tremendous opportunity for physical development for pre-school children.

The centre, now completing its second year of operation in the special day care facility at #6 Cunningham Road, already provides the children with unique learning experiences.

The storybook corner, science corner, children's kitchen, work bench and music area are some of the attractions which have captured the interest of both children and parents.

Since January 1, 1977, the centre has accommodated 91 children. The centre is licensed for 60 children at one time. Children from single-parent families accounted for 47 percent of the occupancy as of March 1978.

The main objective of the Day Care Centre is to provide quality day care for children who have working parents or whose parents are furthering their education.

Through the purchase of a mini school bus, early last year, the children have been able to attend a number of field trips to various places such as the Planetarium, the Alberta Game Farm, Fort Edmonton, the Industrial Airport, picnics at Wm. Hawrelak Park and numerous community attractions.

Each week special themes are used to make the children more aware of the world around them as well as the fantasy world of their imaginations.

Many individuals have taken time to become involved in the children's program including the firemen, RCMP, public health nurses and inspectors, dental hygienists and local businessmen.

On May 16, 1977, Operation Child Care began. This program is designed to meet the needs of school-age children before school, during lunch hour, after school and on non-instructional school days.

The program originally opened at Bertha Kennedy School with two children in attendance. At the end of June, Operation Child Care moved from Bertha Kennedy to Ronald Harvey School, where it now accommodates 20 children.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The annual general meeting of the St. Albert Day Care Society is scheduled for Wednesday, April 5, at 8 p.m. at the Day Care Centre on Cunningham Road. All present Society members and interested prospective members are encouraged to attend this annual meeting.

The election of the 1978-1979 Board of Directors will be followed by discussions about the playground and the After Four Program.

Colleen Mead, director of licensing for Alberta Social Services and Community Health will explain the new day care regulations.

Recent legislation requires that these new standards be implemented July 1, 1978. Certainly day care financing and parent fees will be affected by these new regulations.

If you are interested in the advancement of quality day care in St. Albert, we urge you to attend this meeting on April 5.

Dental hygiene methods vary

No one cleaning technique is best for everyone. One commonly accepted brushing method is to place the head of the brush alongside the teeth with the bristle tips angled against the gum line and move the brush back and forth with a short stroke, using a gentle scrubbing motion. The outer, inner and biting surfaces of each tooth should be brushed. Floss should be used to clean areas between the teeth which are inaccessible to the brush. Many people think that brushing wears out teeth or makes the gums bleed, when in fact much of the problem is accummulation of tartar on the teeth and gums.

Top hat 'n tails:

Past and present unite in chimney sweep firm

Cliff Jesclon demonstrates the 'Chimney Sweeps Dance' to Gazette staffers.

They look as if they had stepped from a 19th century print, but their business is St. Albert's newest. Nattily turned out in the traditional black tailed coat and top hat, Cliff Jesclon and Bill Kirk of Top Hat 'N Tails Chimney Sweeps Ltd. employ methods from the past and present to carry out the duties of their 300 year old trade. Chimney sweeps joined the ranks of established tradesmen in the 17th century, when homeowners reacted to the threat of heavy fines for neglected chimneys. Nowadays, the trade is again in demand, as the fireplace has become a standard fixture in new homes.

In the old days, chimney sweeps, young children, were under the authority of a master. The masters were often brutal to the boys, forcing them into the filthy flues by pinching, kicking, or sticking pins in the bottom of their feet. If the child got stuck, the master would light a fire in the hearth, and the terrified child would find the strength to squirm away.

Fortunately, these inhumane methods were outlawed at the turn of the century. Cliff Jesclon learned his trade with an Irish chimney sweep, and uses a number of tools in his work. The main one is a steel brush, resembling a porcupine, which is attached to rods of varying lengths. The brush can be weighted with a steel miller's ball and pulled through the encrusted chimneys.

DIRTY CHIMNEYS CAUSE FIRES!

And in that crust or deposit lies the hazard. The soot that lines a dirty chimney is saturated with a flammable material called creosote. Once the creosote is kindled, the fire spreads rapidly through the flue creating a draft. At this point, the heat can rise to 2,000 to 3,000 degrees. As the heat grows, the mortar between the bricks melts, dripping into the flames and being caught in the up-draft. These fireballs shoot out of the chimney and onto the roof, threatening the entire building.

Cliff also warns of the dangers of commercially prepared logs which contain paraffin. When the was rises and settles on the inside of the chimney, it serves as a trap for soot and creosote. Coal and green wood can also be hazardous, as they contain increased amounts of tar and creosote.

Top Hat 'N Tails is in the business of ensuring that your fireplace will continue to provide you with pleasure, and not pain. Their job is primarily to remove the creosote and tar and thus the soot from the flue. Second, they clean the smoke shelf and damper, as well as checking for leaks and cracks in the flue, tiles and mortar. A complete job takes an hour and a half at the minimum. The firm is a member of the National Chimney Sweep Guild and maintains a high set of standard in their work. In addition to the usual chimney work, they also tend the cleaning needs of wood and coal stoves, such as those used in cottages. Cliff Jesclon warns that one-tenth of an inch of soot reduces heating efficiency by 10 to 15 percent, a fact worth remembering in these energy-conscious times.

$12,000 out on community projects

Following are the highlights from a city council meeting held March 21. All council members were present with Mayor Ron Harvey in the chair.

$12,000 WERE VOTED out of city coffers for recreation and other projects in St. Albert at the meeting. Biggest donation went to the St. Albert Teen Society at $3,545 while the St. Albert Kinsmen were better off to the tune of $3,000 for their parade and rodeo grant.

Next biggest donation went to the Vital Grandin Playground Committee to the tune of $2,000 with an $1,800 grant going to St. Albert Minor Baseball. St. Albert Arts and Crafts came away with $1,605 and the St. Albert Fencing Club $500 (up from an original figure of $100).

The St. Albert Community Band was donated $400 and two smaller grants of $75 each went to Sue Bell and Sean Kehoe.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR Bob Byron promised the administration would look into a suggestion from Alderman Roger Ayotte for a shuttle bus service from St. Albert to Clarke Stadium during football season. Ald. Ayotte also suggested the service might be available for the upcoming Commonwealth Games in August.

ST. ALBERT WILL be hiring two students to man the Tourist Information Booth at Bridge Park on Sturgeon Road during the summer months. STEP (Student Temporary Employment Program) has said it will pay the students up to $300 a month and the St. Albert Chamber has committed itself to finance 50 percent of the deficit.

St. Albert council has also committed the city to pay for 50 percent of the deficit, up to a maximum of $1,200.

THE CITY WILL be moving ahead with its bid to host the 1979 Alberta Summer Games. Alderman Barry Breadner said he was satisfied St. Albert could do the job and there were indications of support from two of the city's strongest service clubs, he said. Alderman Liesbeth Bakker gave the submission her wholehearted support.

CITY MANAGER Mr. Byron said he would like to put forward possible uses for the city crest, as opposed to the "logo" "for its role in identifying St. Albert." He said he supported the crest (for its historic significance). Mr. Byron pointed out the logo was for "quick instant recognition" and the logo was "never intended to supersede the crest."

COUNCIL DECIDED to donate $300 to the Federation of Canadian Municipalities.

ATA to present honorary memberships

Two distinguished Alberta educators are to be awarded the highest honor of The Alberta Teachers' Association during its Annual Representative Assembly in Calgary on March 27.

Dr. S.C.T. (Stan) Clarke, ATA executive secretary from 1959 to 1969, and James A. Smith, ATA president from 1941 to 1943, will be presented certificates of honorary membership by ATA President Mac Kryzanowski following the opening ceremonies at 9 Monday morning. The assembly is being held in Macleod Hall in the Calgary Convention Centre.

Two other honorary memberships in the ATA have been awarded this year. Former Calgary separate school superintendent Dr. Jack Van Tighem and former ATA president G.S. (Joe) Lakie were honored in February at the Calgary city and southwestern teachers' conventions respectively.

Grant MacEwan to get $5 million

Grant MacEwan Community College, Edmonton will receive five million dollars in capital funds in 1978/79 for a new campus in Jasper Place, Dr. A. E. Hohol, Minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, announced last week.

Projected costs for the building, site development, equipment and furniture are expected to total $12,200,000 over the next three years. The new education complex will house classrooms, laboratories and administration offices. It will replace the existing Jasper Place and Assumption facilities, and will be located on the Jasper Place site.

"Acquisition of the Jasper Place site is a result of an exchange of Assumption Campus for Jasper Place with the Edmonton Public School Board. This location is currently being leased from the school board," Dr. Hohol explained.

"The college will retain use of Assumption Campus for three years. Upon completion of the new campus, administration offices and programs now operating at Assumption will be accommodated at other Grant MacEwan locations," he added.

Scheduled for completion and occupancy in 1981, the proposed 20 000 square metres (215 000 sq. ft.) will provide 13 006 square metres (140 000 sq. ft.) of functional space for the school. This new facility will have a capacity for 1 370 studen ts, bringing the college's total enrolment to 2 750 after the Assumption campus ceases to exist.

Funds given for new U of A building

Capital funds of nearly $5 5 million for a new agriculture building at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, have been announced by Dr. A. E. Hohol, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower.

The initial grant for construction costs during 1978-79 amounts to $5,498,000. Costs projected over the next three years, to cover the building, utilities, landscaping, equipment and furniture, are estimated at $19,-465,000.

"This building, along with a gradual reassignment of space in the general services and printing services buildings, will provide for the long-term needs of the Faculty of Agriculture and Forestry, and release space for other disciplines," Dr. Hohol explained.

Scheduled for completion and occupancy in 1981, the proposed 16 477 square metre (177 352 sq. ft.) structure will furnish a 10 297 square metre (110 836 sq. ft.) base for research and planning in preparation for subsequent testing under field conditions. The addition to the campus would increase the university's capacity by 700 students.

The new facility will be built north of the Students' Union Building where the tennis courts are now located. Lony Maxel and Associates of Calgary have been named architects for the complex.

Essay contest for grades 10, 11 announced

The Canadian Council of Christians and Jews announces its sixth annual essay contest for grades 10 and 11. The theme of the essay is to be "Canada What Kind of a Society Do I Want to Live In?"

In answering the question of why an essay contest by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews? Mr. R. L. Lucas, executive director, Western Region, said, more than at any other time in our recent history Canadians are being asked to look at our country and to resolve questions concerning the future of our political community. Recent developments in Quebec have brought a new sense of urgency to the demand that English and French speaking Canadians establish a harmonious relationship that is characterized by cultural and linguistic equality.

DEADLINE APRIL 15

The essay contest is open to any grade 10 or 11 student in Alberta, Saskatchewan and the North West Territories. All essays should be submitted by April 15, 1978 to the Council's Office in Calgary, Room 600, 630 8th Ave. S.W. Calgary, Alberta, T2P 1G6. There will be two awards presented in each region of the council. One winning submission in both English and French will be made in each region, with the winners receiving an all-expense paid trip to Ottawa for three days and a one day side trip to Quebec City. In addition the teacher responsible for supervising the winning student will also be given the opportunity to participate in the trip.

In addition to the regional prizes the best submission in English and in French from across Canada as well as the best follow up submission in either language will win an all expenses paid trip to London, England, and Paris, France, courtesy of Air Canada. Mr. Lucas said that the second part of the prize, that of going to England will be educational in nature and will examine the historical past and present of the two founding nations and cultures of Canada.

Students wishing more information can contact the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews office in Calgary.

All judging will be done by a panel of judges set up by the council. The judging will be based on originality, content, composition and style. The essays should not exceed two thousand (2000) words.

College reports employment success rate

A survey completed recently by Grant MacEwan Community College indicates that 85% of the Spring, 1977 graduates are employed in positions related to their fields of study.

A total of 434 students graduated from Grant MacEwan Community College in the Spring of 1977, an increase of 22% over the Spring of 1975. 97% of the graduates are from career/vocational programs; 3% from avocational programs. Responses to the survey were received from 75% of the graduates.

The average monthly starting salary reported by graduates employed in related positions is $900 a month. This is 25% higher than the average salary reported by the 1976 graduate. Those employed in positions not related to their field of study, report monthly salaries of $720.

82% of the respondents are employed; 8.9% are not employed and are seeking employment and 9.1% are not employed and are not seeking employment.

According to Phil Shragge, co-ordinator of the Course and Program Development Department, results of this survey are consistent with results gathered over the past four years.

Senior Citizens head for campus

From May 1 - 19 Alberta's senior citizens can partake of an educational smorgasbord offered by the University of Alberta.

Fourteen general interest non-credit courses will be taught during the university's spring session for senior citizens.

All residents of Alberta 65 years of age and over and their spouses who may not yet be 65 are eligible to attend.

Priority will be given to senior citizens who reside north of Red Deer and, in the event of overflow registration, it may be necessary to give some priority to those who have not attended previous sessions.

No formal academic qualifications are necessary to attend the session and no exams will be written. Library passes and free parking will be available as will free rooms in Lister Hall for out-of-town residents.

This year, however, a fee structure has been implemented. The fees are $5 for first, second and third year of attendance and $50 for the fourth year of attendance.

There is a scholarship fund for applicants who may encounter difficulty with the fee structure. Applications for scholarships should be made in writing to Mrs. Monda Wadsworth, Faculty of Extension, who will forward all requests to an advisory committee. Applications will be handled in strictest confidence.

The deadline for registration is April 7 and quick action is advised as class enrolments are limited. A person must be registered in a particular class in order to attend it.

WIDE CHOICE OF SUBJECTS

Drawing and Painting, Creative Writing (two sections), Writing Your Community History, The Immigrant in Canada: A Perspective, The West in Canadian Literature, Music Appreciation, Conversational French, Around the World in 15 Days, and Fitness and Lifestyle are the courses which will be taught May 1 - 19.

The Well-Read Grandparent will be taught May 1 - 12 and The Law and You will be taught May 8 - 12.

Your Changing University is scheduled for May 1, 3 and 5 while The Game of Wizards (an exploration of magic and divination) and Contemporary Canadian Issues will be taught May 8 - 19.

Social activities tentatively arranged for the session include a performance of the Brecht play Puntila in Studio Theatre May 4, a performance of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra May 5 and a banquet and dance in Lister Hall May 11.

During the entire session, participants may purchase their meals from cafeterias in Lister Hall and the Students' Union Building.

For further information and registration forms, telephone 432-3033 or write Spring Session for Senior Citizens, Faculty of Extension, Corbett Hall, 112 Street and 82 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, T6G 2G4.

France - Anglophone exchange announced

The Canadian Council of Christians and Jews has announced its annual student exchange will take place June 28 to July 26, 1978. The exchange program is an exchange of English and French speaking students in Canada.

In making this announcement the Council Executive Director Mr. Lucas said the purpose of the exchange is to provide students with an ideal combination of vacationing and learning. The exchange is designed to encourage bilingualism and develop understanding and goodwill between English and French speaking high school students and their families.

To be eligible English students must be between 14 and 18 years of age, have studied French for a minimum of two years and be seriously interested in improving their ability to speak French. Students interested in applying for the program may obtain the application forms from their school French department or by contacting Mr. R. Lucas, Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, 600, 630 8th Ave. S.W. Calgary, Alberta, T2P 1G6.

Each English speaking student is assigned a French speaking student from Quebec of similar age, sex, education and interests. The students are together for four weeks, two weeks in each others homes. The cost for the program is $20 per student. The council makes all travel arrangements.

Mr. Lucas explained that there will be a total of two hundred and ninety-three students travelling from his region this year. The breakdown is 80 students from Saskatchewan, 188 from Alberta and 25 from the North West Territories. While the exchange program is designed on an individual basis the students will be brought together from time to time for group social and educational activities.

The Canadian Council of Christians and Jews coordinate all arrangements for the exchange visits and meet all applicants and parents prior to the visits to review all arrangements with them. Adult supervisors accompany each group or students while travelling.

Major campus addition for Nait

Dr. A. E. Hohol, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, announced today that the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology in Edmonton will occupy a major campus addition in 1980.

Projected cost of the 20 000 square metre (215 200 sq. ft.) facility is $15,600,000; capital funds will amount to $3,280,000 in 1978/79. Alberta Housing and Public Works will be responsible for construction.

The addition will consist of two parts located north of the existing main building. They will be joined by a catwalk spanning 118 Avenue.

The southern portion will accommodate concentrated resource material, food service training, student activities, continuing education, book store, and space for a bank to be leased from the government.

The northern portion will provide instructional space for forestry, woodworking, automotives, continuing education and staff offices.

The new addition will bring NAIT's capacity to 6000 students.

"More with less" cookbook emphasizes simpler diet

"Practicing what they preach, Mennonites' concern for world hunger has evolved into a determination to eat and spend 10 percent less on food," Publishers Weekly says regarding the new More-with-Less Cookbook, by Doris Longacre. The book is published by Herald Press.

"The author has done her homework meticulously and creatively and has produced a book that is an act of faith, a reservoir of information, and a practical manual," they continue.

More-with-Less Cookbook contains more than 500 recipes gathered from Mennonite kitchens in North America (and beyond) chosen on the basis of their contribution to good eating and good health. They encourage increased reliance on basic ingredients for a hearty, balanced diet.

All the recipes were tested by professional home economists in the United States and Canada.

The recipes are interspersed with helpful commentary by the author. Suggestions at the end of each unit provide creative ideas on how to serve leftovers.

The introductory section of the book contains four chapters on (1) world food shortages and the typical North American diet, (2) Christian motivation for simple eating, (3) ways to building a simple diet, and (4) joy and creativity in meal planning.

The recipe section is divided into 12 basic food categories: (1) Yeast and Quick Breads, (2) Cereals, (3) Beans, Soybeans, and Lentils, (4) Main Dishes and casseroles, (5) Eggs, Milk, and Cheese, (6) Meats and Fish, (7) Soups, (8) Vegetables, (9) Salads, (10) Desserts, cakes and cookies, (11) Gardening and Preserving, and (12) Snacks and Miscellaneous.

Mennonite Central Committee (MCC), Akron, Pennsylvania, commissioned the book in light of world food needs. The co-operative relief and service agency of seventeen North American Mennonite and Brethren in Christ churches, MCC has called for a major focus on the world food crisis in the next five to 10 years.

Church World Service and the relief agencies of the Methodist, Lutheran, and Presbyterian Churches have endorsed the book and are promoting it to their constituencies. Herald Press has received inquiries for translation rights in five languages.

Speaker relates Women's Institute history

Mrs. Irene Moir, W.I. Constituency Convenor, was the guest speaker of the local Woman's Institute on March 21 at the home of Marg Dalman. Each member present introduced herself to Mrs. Moir and told how many years she has been in W.I. Mrs. Moir gave a very informative speech on the organization of the W.I. Mrs. organization of the W.I., beginning with each local branch and ending with the world-wide organization: Associated Country Women of the World. She also challenged the members to take more active parts in their organization. She was presented with a coffee spoon following her speech, to show the group's appreciation of her coming.

President lorraine Moore conducted the business session. Annual reports for 1977 were given by the secretary and treasurer. It was announced that the group would be taking a bus to the constituency Conference to be held on Saturday, April 22 in Colchester. Articles were collected from the members to be entered in the handicraft judging in Colchester. Laurie Dalman volunteered to be the groups delegate to the conference.

Marg Iseke gave the report on the Inter-Club Council meeting that she had attended recently.

Ethel Cuts' group plan to give the Senior Citizen's Centre a good spring cleaning on Easter Monday. It was decided to ask the W.I. secretary to write a letter to the Senior Citizen's Council suggesting that they secure a janitor service on a regular basis.

Louise Fuhr instructed the group on how to cover coat hangers with colorful nylon strips. Each member had a chance to try to cover a hanger on her own. They are very decorative and colorful, as well as practical because they keep clothes from sliding off the hangers.

Around Town

The Calahoo Midgets had a victory Sunday night, but their win was nearly the Gazette's loss. The Midgets were faltering Sunday night, and their lack of spirit caught the eye of a certain veteran Gazette typesetter, to whom a lack of spirits was no problem. Our vivacious blond became a whirling dervish--cheerish, chanting, raving and ranting on the Midgets' behalf. Her fervour must have transmitted itself to the players, who surged ahead to victory. However, Sunday's gain was Monday's pain. Our typesetter succumbed to laryngitis and a number of other inflictions early Monday afternoon and crept home to nurse her wounds. Fortunately for us, however, all but her voice recuperated and she was back pounding the keys on Tuesday morning. As for the laryngitis, we are awaiting her return to full voice with mixed feelings...

At your library

By Peter Mutchler

This year there is a government program to persuade Canadians to explore Canada. Some people might claim there is nothing to see in Canada, as if our country was only the flatlands around Regina, ignoring the Rockies, the North Shore of Lake Superior, the Gatineaus, The Cabot Trail etc.

Two authors who have crossed the country and written about it are Eugene Cloutier, "No Passport" and Edward McCourt "The Road Across Canada". Both books record a trip across the country, what they saw, who they met. Mr. Cloutier took about six months to visit all the provinces and the Yukon. He writes from a French Canadian viewpoint. Edward McCourt writes a more conventional story starting at St. John's, Newfoundland and ending at Victoria. He relates all he saw in his trip along the Trans Canada Highway.

With some reduction in air fares, perhaps you'd like to go down East, the real East. Harold Horwood in his book "Newfoundland" tells about our most Eastern province. Coming from a long line of seafarers, he writes with conviction of his province. The history of Newfoundland is mixed with what to see and look for while in that province. And a strange and interesting history it is.

Nova Scotia is described by Will R. Bird in "Off-Trail in Nova Scotia." In a leisurely book he takes you around this province. He describes the countryside and tells the story of the people who lived there, and of those who still do. Mr. Bird writes with skill and enthusiasm of his province. This book is a fine story, even if one can't make it to Nova Scotia this year.

Moving on to New Brunswick, there is Stuart Trueman's "The Fascinating World of New Brunswick". Stuart Trueman writes of his province with tender, loving, care. He describes the physical features, but the descriptions are interspersed with stories about the people of the province. Read about the Micmacs and their wild tame beavers, or Canada's most fantastic restaurant at Perth Andover, or the ghost on the Nashwaak - Miramichi Trail.

The authors of these books write of their provinces with loving concern, and they write of the people who live there, the people who make each province the unique place it is.

Moving along to Quebec, there is "The Many Faces of Quebec." This is basically a photographic book, with a supplementary text. Here you visit the Gaspe region, the St. Lawrence, the Laurentians, meet the people, see how they work and play. While not as chatty as the other books, it does give one an opportunity to see something of La Belle Province, and plan where you can go for a visit sometimes off the beaten track where English is rarely heard.

One of the great barriers to travel in Canada has to be Northern Ontario. Entering Ontario southeast of Hawkesbury, it is over 1,300 miles before you leave west of Kenora. One of the areas of beauty is Lake Superior itself. Bruce Littlejohn and Wagland Drew in "Superior! The Haunted Shore." Try to capture some of this wild beauty, and have succeeded remarkably well. They trace the history of the region, the explorers, the fur traders, the canoe brigades of the Northwest Company, the ships that sailed and steamed on this great lake. An interesting book about a still untamed land, where man still lives on its periphery.

Finally, let us not forget our own province. Robert Kroetsch has written "Alberta" to point out what is in this province, to indicate there are other parts besides Highway 2, Banff and Jasper for people to visit. Written before the Tar Sands, Mr. Kroetsch does not describe the current activity, but he writes of the Peace country, the Blackfoot country and the Athabasca. In a way, it's fun reading about Edmonton as seen 10 years ago. But, the descriptions of the country, what to see is still valid, and worthy to read about.

Jazz

By R. D. Coles

There is a good schedule of local jazz at the Art Gallery this coming month. All programs will start at 2:30 p.m. and are free to the public.

Dave Bjarnason and his quartet get the month going on April 8. Greg Smith (guitar), Dave Keist (piano), Jason Sheper (bass), Ron Bjarnason (congas-percussion) and Rick Hart (sax - flute) will appear with Dave. This quartet will also appear at the Hot Box on the 14th and 15th for all you late nighters.

Speaking of the Hot Box, John Blondheim is there this Friday and Saturday from 11:30 p.m. until 3 a.m.

CONCERT POSTPONED

I've been waiting very impatiently for the Oscar Peterson concert, and now I have to wait a little longer. Word from Mike's is that Ella Fitzgerald is suffering an ear infection, and her doctor refuses to let her fly. Stay tuned to this column for future date of this jazz spectacular.

JUSTICE FOR THE JURY

It seems to me that the Old Bailey has not been given much credit lately, after all, they have been serving up jazz for the past nine years - The Jury - Moe, Tom and West - Man, are they tight.

Harrison paintings at Foyer Gallery

Featured in the Foyer Gallery at the Centennial Library during the month of April will be an exhibition of paintings by Edgar Harrison.

Edgar Harrison was born in Hanna, Alberta in 1936. He lived on a farm in the Hanna district before he joined the Canadian Air Force in 1955. Harrison travelled extensively with the Forces, both in Europe and in Canada. While in Halifax, N.S. he enrolled in art courses at the Nova Scotia School of Fine Arts and studied under artists Tony Law at Saint Mary's University.

In this, his first one man exhibition, Harrison's work consists of primarily portrait studies, some abstracts, in both acrylics and oils. The show will open April 3 until April 30. For further information call 423-2331, Ext. 217.

Country life depicted at show

Over forty works selected from the Edmonton Art Gallery's permanent collection will be on view from April 12 - May 27 in an Exhibition entitled "Pastoral Pleasures."

Two traditions, united by a common theme of country life, are represented in the works selected for the show. The Arts of Landscape Painting and Genre Painting, which have been maintained and developed by Canadian Artists up to the present day. The Exhibition will include Historical and Contemporary work by International and Canadian Artists such as: John Constable; Aurele de Foy Suzor-Cote; A.Y. Jackson; J.E.H. MacDonald; R.D. Symons; William Kurelek; Bernard Meadows; Joe Fafard and Sylvain Voyer.

Walterdale showcases novice directors

For five days only, beginning April 4 to 8 at 8:30 p.m. nightly, Walterdale showcases four novice directors.

Candi Plattor, Diane Kichton, Maureen Rivet and George Bertwell each take on a segment of "You Know I Can't Hear You When The Water's Running."

This comical piece written in four parts by Robert Anderson 'turns an eyeball' on sex (yes, you're seeing it with your very own eyes) and focuses in on nudity, birth control and divorce ... to name just a few subjects!

Tickets are still $3 and available from the Bay downtown box office only - phone 424-0121.

Nait photos on display

Featured in the Photography Gallery on the second floor of the Centennial Library during April and May, will be an exhibition of the work of the graduating class of fourth year photography students at N.A.I.T.

Each class member has his work represented in this exhibition. The photographs are in both black and white and colour, and illustrate a wide range of photographic interest covering landscapes, portraits, graphics and documentaries.

The show will open April 3 until May 29.

The Star Spangled Girl: Simon script sags in forgettable production

By Vicky Knight

Neil Simon and Stage West have been nicely married since that theatre's inception, but with the production of "The Star Spangled Girl," it looks like a divorce should be imminent. Simon is a prolific and wry observer of middle class mania, but even he cannot be expected to fuel Stage West's creative fires forever. "The Star Spangled Girl" is one of his weakest efforts and I wish another vehicle could have been found for the ebullient Ron Palillo.

Briefly, the play looks at the antics that erupt when a southern belle of aquatic bent moves in next to the publishers of a highly idealistic underground magazine. Palillo, better known to TV audiences as Welcome Back Kotter's Arnold Horshak, plays the part of a zany, workaholic writer, whose obsession with the sexy swimmer drives him to new heights of insanity. These two hysterical types are balanced by the presence of the Palillo's roommate, a smooth operator who is the magazine's business brain. The play deals with the constant carousel of relationships between the trio.

As Ron Palillo pointed out opening night, the production was put together in four days, a fact that is all too evident. Palillo, whose keening voice normally pierces the eardrums of Kotter devotees, seemed tired and listless, a wan version of his televised image. He was physically frantic, but the constant leaping and bounding about seemed to be a strain, both on audience and actor. He is an endearing sort, but was done in by a lacklustre script and a hasty production.

However, unlike other productions at Stage West, there was little sense of a star performer surrounded by lesser lights. All the performances were equally professional and the suave Mike Fletcher was a marvellous foil to the hyperkinetic Palillo. Rowena Emmett, in the title role, wiggled and flounced about appropriately although the one dimensional nature of the character does begin to grate on one's nerves. This is no fault of the actress, however. Simon's portrayals of women while amusing, generally lack understanding or sympathy.

Recent negative comment concerning the Stage West buffet must have been duly noted in the kitchens, and Wednesday night's groaning tables bore the result. The food was much improved, once again putting Stage West head and shoulders above standard dinner theatre victuals in other areas.

A delight to the eye "Crossed Swords"

CROSSED SWORDS
JASPER, EDMONTON
By Jim McIntyre

This "Three Musketeers" type movie is definitely a heartwarmer, and is based on the Prince and the Pauper theme.

It is a British production filmed in the locations of umpteen English cathedrals and castles and the audience obviously loved the quick-paced comedy. They burst out into spontaneous applause when the show came to a close with Mark Lester being crowned rightful King of England after the death of Henry VIII, played by Charlton Heston.

The movie takes a few liberties with English history following a literary licence given by Mark Twain at the commencement of the film.

This is a delightful production with Mark Lester, a maturing British actor, taking the credits; he doubles up as the Prince of Wales and also as the Pauper causing not a few tangles in the plot till the whole "mess" sorts itself out.

Charlton Heston is worth seeing as Henry VIII, gout ridden and adding this performance to a long list in his interpretations of Moses and Michael Angelo.

Rex Harrison, of My Fair Lady fame winds up as the Duke of Norfolk who misses the gallows by a narrow squeak after a testy Henry dies.

Oliver Reed protects the young prince after circumstances momentarily depose him from the palace to take the place of a roguish pickpocket from London's Smithfield.

The still lithe and lovely Raquel Welch appears as a lovely English lady, a reward for Mr. Reeds production of the Pauper-Prince.

The sets of the show are resplendent and the overall effect of this romp through Henry VIII's England is a delight to the eye.

CANADA PENSION PLAN CHANGES.

Better Benefits For Some.

Divorce or Annulment.

CPP pension credits earned by a husband and wife during marriage may be divided equally between them if the marriage ends in divorce or annulment after January 1, 1978. This ensures that an asset accumulated through the efforts of both spouses while they were married can be shared equally by both when the marriage is dissolved.

Retroactive Payment of Retirement Benefits.

Retirement benefits may now be paid retroactively for a period of up to 12 months to contributors who had attained age 65 but who are under age 70 and who have retired from the labour force.

Post-Mortem Benefits.

Applications for retroactive benefits (i.e. up to 12 months) can now be made on behalf of a deceased person, in cases where a contributor qualified, but failed to apply, before death. Families or estates will be entitled to receive benefits in such cases.

Elimination of Reductions in Children's Benefits.

Orphans' and disabled contributors' children's benefits are no longer reduced for the fifth and subsequent children. All children in a family, regardless of its size, are eligible to receive equal benefits.

These important amendments to the Canada Pension Plan came into force on January 1st, 1978

John Murrell's "Parade" arrives at Northern Light

A long-time resident of Alberta, and a playwright nurtured by the theatre here, Calgary's John Murrell has lately attracted national and international attention. Northern Light Theatre's production of his Waiting For the Parade is the second staging of this new work, following last season's Calgary premiere. The play runs March 30 through April 23, at lunch-hours and on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings in the Art Gallery Theatre. Northern Light departs from its regular one-act format in order to present Waiting for the Parade in its full-length form.

Waiting for the Parade is a touching and funny play about five Calgary women thrown together in 1939 by a war thousands of miles away. It offers five remarkable female roles in which Director Scott Swan has cast five of Alberta's most accomplished actresses: Kathie Ball, Joan Boyd, Angela Gann, Merrilyn Gann and Mickey Macdonald. Designer is George Dexter and Stage Manager is Pam Chappell, while Music Director Angela Gann handles the numerous period songs, including "Lili Marlene" and "The White Cliffs of Dover."

John Murrell's other full length plays, all of which have been professionally produced include Power in the Blood, winner of the 1975 Lee National Playwrighting Award, premiered in Edmonton at Studio Theatre, and A Great Noise, A Great Light, about Alberta in the Aberhart era. The latter was, like Waiting for the Parade, commissioned and produced by Alberta Theatre Projects of Calgary, where Murrell was for two seasons Playwright-in-Residence.

He has done a new English translation of Chekov's Uncle Vanya which will be presented at this year's Stratford Festival, directed by Robin Phillips and Urjo Kareda. Murrell's play about the great French actress Sarah Bernhardt, Memoir, received its premiere production in May, 1977 at the Guelph Spring Festival of the Arts in Ontario, starring Siobhan McKenna and Gerard Perkes. Miss McKenna has since repeated the Bernhardt role with great success in Dublin and in London's West End. A New York production at the Circle in the Square Repertory Theatre is scheduled for early next season.

Northern Light Theatre has adjusted its performance schedule in order to present Waiting for the Parade in its full length form with an additional evening show. Performances are Tuesday through Friday at 12:10 p.m. and Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 7:30 p.m., March 30 through April 23 in the Art Gallery Theatre.

Tickets for Waiting For the Parade are now on sale at all Bay ticket outlets (downtown, Southgate, Londonderry - ph. 424-0121), the HUB Mall box office (ph. 432-5145), and the Northern Light Theatre box office (ph. 429-p3110). Tickets are also on sale at the door as available.

Drama school invites applications

Every year stage-struck teen-agers and adults descend on the town of Drumheller to take part in Alberta Culture's Summer Drama School program. This year the courses are scheduled from July 2 to 30 and feature instruction at beginner, intermediate and advanced levels.

July 2 to 16 is the Intermediate Teen Course, open to students who have attended the Beginner's Course at Drumheller and others with extensive high school training. The fee is $160.

July 2 to 23 are the Advanced Teen Courses which are open to students who have attended the Intermediate Course at Drumheller and others with extensive high school training. Only 30 registrants will be accepted, and all applicants must show evidence of their drama achievements. One course offers advanced instruction in action, mime, speech, directing and movement. The other emphasizes production design, costume, lighting and directing. The fee is $240.

July 16 to 30 are the adult programs for individuals wishing to begin or improve their skills in all areas of drama. The fee is $160.

July 23 to 30 is the Beginner's Teen Course for individuals 14 and over. The fee is $80.

A special leadership training course is planned for July 16 to 23. It is hoped that every community will send at least one representative to learn the basics of getting a facility, staging a performance, obtaining scripts and handling manpower problems. The role of the director, producer and stage manager will also be explored. The fee is $80.

All instructors for the drama courses are of the highest calibre and have gained their reputations provincially, nationally and internationally.

Deadline for applications is May 15, 1978. For more information and application forms write or telephone: Alberta Culture, Performing Arts, 11th Floor, CN Tower, 10004 - 104 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta T5J 0K5. Telephone: 427-2563.

Gable romances at the Museum

Clark Gable, the king of romance, is the star of a new film series organized by Alberta Culture Sundays in April at the Provincial Museum. There will be two showings at 4 and 7 p.m. and admission is free.

April 2 is It Happened One Night (1934). As a rough, tough reporter, he falls for heiress Claudette Colbert on a bus trip.

April 9 is Mogambo (1953), with Gable, Ava Gardner and Grace Kelly locked into a romantic triangle set in Africa.

April 16 is Band is Angels (1957). Gable is a southern gentleman with a shady past. Yvonne de Carlo and Sidney Poitier co-star.

April 23 is San Fransico (1936). A lavish production with music and song, love and the inevitable earthquake. Jenette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy co-star.

April 30 is The Misfits (1961). The final film for both Gable and Marilyn Monroe, this is a western with a twist.

The museum is open Monday to Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Art of Joseph Reeder at SUB Gallery

There will be an exhibition of paintings and drawings by the artist Joseph Reeder in the Students' Union Art Gallery, S.U.B. from Monday, April 3 to Friday, April 14. The exhibition opening will be held Sunday, April 2 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the gallery.

Gallery hours are 12 noon to 6 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 5 p.m. weekends (Saturday and Sunday).

Joseph Reeder was born in Texas in 1944. He received his B.F.A. and M.F.A. degrees in the United States before emigrating to Canada in 1972. During the summer of 1971 Joseph attended the Banff Centre with a Senior Painting Scholarship and a year later returned with a Photography Scholarship. He developed and taught a design course for the Photography Division of the Banff Centre. Teaching experience includes Oklahoma University, Red Deer College, Alberta, the University of Lethbridge, and the University of Saskatoon, Sask.

Joseph Reeder has had a great number of group shows during the period 1968 to 1978 including the United States, the Banff Centre (School of Fine Arts), the Edmonton Art Gallery, the Norman Mackenzie Art Gallery in Regina, the University of Lethbridge, and the BAU - X1 Gallery in Vancouver. Abroad, Joseph's work has been exhibited in Liverpool and Bradford, England and Edinburgh, Scotland. One-man shows have been held in Oklahoma, Lethbridge and Edmonton.

Joseph's work is represented in many collections.

Four NFB films up for Oscars

This year an unprecedented four National Film Board films have been nominated for an Academy Award. To celebrate this international recognition of excellence in Canadian film making, you are invited to attend a special free presentation of these four films with the NFB's two previous Oscar winners.

OSCAR NOMINATIONS FOR 1978

Bead Game by Ishu Patel. In this fascinating and innovative exercise in animation, thousands of beads are arranged and manipulated into shapes of creatures both mythical and real. Moving up the evolutionary chain, these creatures devour, merge and absorb one another in explosions of colour.

The Sand Castle by Co Hoedeman. In this animated film, the central character is the Sandman who sculpts creatures out of sand. Co Hoedeman, winner of many awards illustrates the words of William Blake: "To see a world in a grain of sand."

I'll Find A Way" by Beverly Shaffer. This short documentary, one of the Children of Canada series, is about nine year old Nadia De Franco, a physically handicapped girl from Toronto. The film reveals Nadia's refreshing sense of humour and optimistic approach to life.

Girls' parliament convened today

The seventh annual Alberta Girls' Parliament will be held in Edmonton at the Alberta School for the Deaf, 6420 - 113 Street, from today to March 31, 1978. An afternoon will be spent at the Alberta Legislature. The opening ceremony will be at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Ethel Wilson, who has been involved with planning these sessions in the past will again spend some time in workshops to train the girls in parliamentary procedures. Attending from St. Albert will be Bonnie Bolton, Donita Rokosh, Shenda Tanchak, Kathleen Telfer, Donna Bokenfohr

Mrs. Ralph Steinhauer will act as lieutenant governor and deliver the Speech from the Throne. Miss Kathy Smetheram of Calgary will be the Premier. Miss Shenda Tanchak of St. Albert will be Leader of the Opposition. Barbara Mitchell will be alternate Leader of the Opposition, and Joan Mather of Edmonton will be the Deputy Premier.

Mr. Edgar H. Gerhart, Q.C., is speaking on the democratic system of government.

Mr. Bryan Sulley, from the Department of Immigration, plans to discuss the responsibilities of good citizenship.

Mrs. Gail Lemieux, Girl Guide National Program Chairman from Ontario, is an invited guest to the Parliament.

Invitations have been extended to the C.G.I.T. and the 4H Clubs of Alberta to send two representatives from each group.

Resolutions to be discussed at the seventh session include: Population Control, Foreign Aid, Gun Control, Physical Fitness, Development of Canada's North.

Some of the girls have had the advantage of attending Girl Guide workshops where representatives from Toastmistress Clubs have assisted in pre-training in proper parliamentary procedure.

The Alberta Girls' Parliament was formed in 1971. It was first announced by a Proclamation read in the Alberta Legislature by Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Minister without Portfolio, on April 16, 1971. It is sponsored by the Girl Guides of Canada Alberta Council and is the only one in Canada. The Alberta Girls' Parliament, which is an extension of the citizenship program of the Girl Guides, involves mainly Rangers and Cadets. The objectives of the Parliament are:

To encourage girls to seek out the challenge of citizenship participation through leadership training and service; To train members in the arts of logical thought and self expression; To educate members in the process of Parliament and the responsibilities of citizenship; To aid in the development and training of leaders in charge of the Ranger and Cadet programs.

Teen Scene

By Brian Leonard, Community Youth Worker

Hideout - First the good news: Thanks to Mrs. De Champlain and some hard work on the part of the Teen Executive, the centre hosted its first disco. It was a success and there may be another one in the future. Now the bad news: Any money we made on the discotheque will have to be spent to replace a window that was vandalized during regular operations, Saturday March 25. Those responsible should know the money it will cost to replace windows will have to come from the operating budget which means jukebox repairs, more furniture, games, etc. will have to wait. There are a lot of discouraged and disappointed members and workers

The Eastside Teens floor hockey team meet the RCMP at Lorne Akins gym on Monday, April 3. They're really fired up after two postponements. Watch for a clean game as I will be refereeing.

There are funds available for youth groups interested in educational summer travel. For more information give me a call at 459-6601, ext. 48.

Did you get Unemployment Insurance in 1977?

If so, you have probably received a tax information slip (T4U) in the mail.

If the slip hasn't arrived...

If you didn't get a T4U from us, go to your local post office. Pick up a postal reply card to apply for duplicates. Fill it in and mail it. You'll get your duplicate T4U in time to file your tax return.

If the slip has arrived...

If you did get a T4U but need a replacement for any reason, also use the postal reply card. Mark "replacement" on the card in the upper right hand corner.

If the slip has arrived but you need more information...

If you did get a T4U and still need an itemized statement, fill in the same card. You must write the total UI benefits you got in 1977 somewhere on the card.

This is important. It will help us get your statement to you in time. You'll find the total benefits figure in Box "B" of your T4U slip.

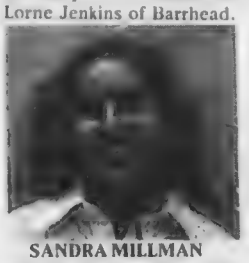
Paul Kane News

Paul Kane's Badminton team completed their series of exhibition games against Edmonton high school teams on a winning note, as they chalked up eight victories against two defeats. They made a clean sweep against Eastglen (5-0), but ran into more difficult competition from Austin O'Brien (3-2).

In the seventy game series just completed, Paul Kane merged with a 67% win record.

Following the spring break, full attention will be directed toward the A.S.A.A. playoffs starting at the Conference level. On April 15, about 125 players will meet at Paul Kane to attempt to earn positions in the zone finals. Joining Paul Kane in the all-day tournament will be Sturgeon High, Thorhild, Edwin Parr of Athabasca, Boyle, Grassland, Westlock, St. Mary's of Westlock and Lorne Jenkins of Barrhead.



SANDRA MILLMAN

PENNY GOLDEN

Two girls from Paul Kane who will be making a serious bid for berths at the zone finals, will be Penny Golden and Sandra Millman. Both have contributed significantly to the teams success so far this year, both are in their final year of high school and both play singles.

Fire strikes at electrical hazards

Electrical hazards may exist or be created in a home setting where occupants are unable to recognize unsafe electrical conditions or practices.

This warning is pointed out by the Home Safety Committee of Alberta Safety Council, who have, through consultation with the Electrical Protection Branch at Alberta Labour, been made aware of many tragedies in Alberta through misuse and abuse of electricity in the home.

Typical examples of such tragedies occurred through a lack of understanding of the potential hazards that existed when electrical appliances and equipment were used in the bathroom, and by using bulbs or lamps which exceeded the wattage limitations of light fixtures, causing over-heating of the fixture with a resulting fire.

To encourage the safe use of electricity in the home, the Home Safety Committee urge Albertans to heed the following recommendations and comments:

·Use only electrical equipment that has been approved by the Canadian Standards Association. This includes all manner of appliances, cords, adapters, etc.

·Do not leave television sets, electric irons and similar appliances turned on when no one is in the house.

·Do not fill electrical kettles with water while the kettles are plugged in.

·Wall receptacles should be fitted with safety covers if you have toddlers in your home.

·Do not locate portable lamps, vaporizers, heaters, etc. where they may be accidentally covered with articles of clothing, bedding or draperies. (This could allow a build up of heat and result in a fire).

·Do not run appliance or extension cords under rugs.

·Do not staple or strap such cords to the building finish. (These cords are not designed for permanent installation and an insulation breakdown could occur at attachment points and result in a fire).

·Always disconnect cords from receptacles by pulling on the plug cap (pulling on the cord can result in damage to both the plug cap and the wall receptacle.).

·Do not locate toasters near curtains and always unplug them if there is a need to use cutlery etc. to remove obstructions.

Obtain the assistance of an expert if frequent blowing of fuses or tripping of breakers is occurring.

While the foregoing list of potential hazards is by no means complete, it does establish the need to recognize problems in your home and to seek the assistance of experts when required

CNIB News

Most sighted Canadians admire the abilities of blind people but know very little about their methods of managing without vision. According to Mr. Charles Clement, president of the local Canadian Council of the Blind Club in Edmonton, this lack of information creates two completely opposite pictures in the observer's eyes. On one hand the blind individual is wise, uncanny, average intelligence, and amazing; on the other hand he also is seen as completely helpless.

"Blind people have no magic memories," the president said in a special interview for White Cane Week, the annual education period of The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. "They are not wiser than sighted people and they don't have a mystic inner light to make up for loss of sight."

Mr. Clement, a visually impaired person himself, knows the extra effort he and his blind associates make to get around the handicap. They learn to handle the teapot and the hot stove without burning themselves. Braille labels distinguish canned goods in the kitchen. Braille markings disclose suitable matching colors in the wardrobe and in the record collection. They are equally mobile with a dog guide or a white cane and by listening for the sound of the automobiles, they handle busy traffic with safety. By folding their bills in different ways, blind persons keep track of their money without mixing the twos and tens.

Blind people have advanced in the 60 years that the CNIB has been on the scene, and that advancement has been the result of training, determination, and ability.

Canadians should discard any outmoded ideas and concepts that they may have about blindness and replace it with a positive and realistic attitude. The first step toward this goal is contained in the White Cane Week slogan now being used - PUT THE ACCENT ON ABILITY. It's positive and realistic and mirrors the way that things are today.

Science faces shortage of human substitutes

By Barbara S. Moffet
National Geographic News Service

A recent decision by India to ban export of rhesus monkeys will cut off the main supply of scientists' favorite human substitute.

Uniquely suited as a stand-in for human beings in scientific research, the rhesus monkey has long been the superior "Guinea pig" in many fields. Rhesus monkeys have helped scientists predict everything from man's reaction to vaccines to his response to space flight.

"The anatomy of the rhesus monkey's brain is very similar to man's," said Dr. Dan Houser of the Wisconsin Primate Research Center. The monkey's reproductive system and vision also parallel man's, he said.

"RH" STANDS FOR RHESUS

A rhesus monkey preceded chimpanzees into space, surviving a trip 83 miles high in 1949, says the National Geographic Society. Infant rhesus monkeys reared in laboratories have helped sociologists identify the factors that mold human behavior.

More famous is the monkey's contribution to the discovery of the vital Rh factor of red blood cells, which was named for the animal. The discovery widened understanding of blood transfusions and, by matching people of similar Rh blood, saved thousands of lives.

Polio vaccine, also a lifesaver, was developed with the aid of the kidney tissue of the rhesus monkey. The monkey's tissue now is used to test batches of vaccine for safety before the vaccine is released to people.

"Every week we use rhesus monkeys to test polio vaccine," said Dr. James Vickers of the Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Biologics. "We also have used them in developing vaccines for yellow fever, measles, and mumps."

India, the chief world source of rhesus monkeys, had exported 200,000 of them a year to the United States in the 1950's. By 1974 the number had dropped to 30,000 and in 1976 the United States imported 13,000.

The export ban will strain the American primate centers, which have provided a small proportion of monkeys for research in the past. Although breeding has been stepped up, they are expected to produce only 6,400 rhesus monkeys a year by 1980.

HUMANS NEED MONKEYS

Scientists believe a decline in India's rhesus monkey population was one reason for the ban.

"I talked about the oncoming shortage of rhesus monkeys around the world in the late '60s and early '70s and people said it was a lot of monkey business," Dr. Vickers said. "Now they are realizing the rhesus monkey is a prime biological model that humans really can't do without."

One reason India gave for closing the door on monkey exports is research conducted until recently by the U.S. Armed Forces Radiobiology Institute. The experiments, some of which simulate the radiation effects of an atomic blast, may violate a 1955 agreement that the monkeys not be used in atomic blast experiments or space research.

Revered as gods by Hindus, the monkeys traditionally have had special protection from some Indians despite the animals' destructive habits.

"I've been in India trapping rhesus monkeys for research, with a permit, and been captured by orthodox Hindus who said we were sinning," Dr. Vickers recounted. "They threatened to break our arms and legs."

THE 23RD CHANNEL

The T.V. set is my shepherd. My spiritual growth shall want.

It maketh me to sit down and do nothing for His name's sake, because it requireth all my spare time. It keepeth me from doing my duty as a Christian, because it presenteth so many good shows that I must see.

It restoreth my knowledge of the things of the world, and keepeth me from the study of God's Word. It leadeth me in the paths of failing to attend the evening worship services and doing nothing in the Kingdom of God.

Yea, though I live to be a hundred, I shall keep on viewing my T.V. as long as it will work, for it is my closest companion. Its sound and its picture, they comfort me.

It presenteth entertainment before me, and keepeth me from doing important things with my family. It fills my head with ideas which differ from those set forth in the Word of God.

Surely, no good thing will come of my life, because my T.V. offereth me no good time to do the will of God; thus I will dwell in outer darkness with the servant who buried his talent. With those without reward forever.

Home of the Week

UNIQUE-BRIGHT FAMILY HOME
Plan No. P2-3-215

Vaulted ceilings, skylights, and extensive glass area make this three bedroom plan of the week a great new home design.

The exterior of this home is shown here clad in vertical natural wood siding, and with cedar shakes on the roof. The double door entrance way, the upper sundeck, and the interesting roofline, all make this plan a natural for a unique new home.

The double door ground level entry is right next to the carport, for convenience. There's lots of space on this entry level for a future rec. room, a workshop or den, or develop two extra bedrooms later on.

The stairs from the ground level lead to the central hallway. Add your own touch with stairwell spindles, or wood panelling to enhance this impressive living room with its floor to ceiling wood-burning fireplace. Vaulted ceilings in the living-dining and kitchen flood these areas with natural light during the day, and give the house a soft warm glow at night.

There's sliding glass doors from the dining area to the sundeck, as well as another set from the family room. The kitchen is placed between these two rooms, which makes the housewife's job of child watching much easier. The kitchen design is convenient and compact, with appliances and counters all within easy reach.

The large master bedroom has its own walk-in closet, as well as a three piece shower ensuite. The other two bedrooms share a common three piece bath. Both of these bedrooms have ample closet space, and large windows. Add your own touch in the bedrooms by adding long narrow windows to put a designer flair in the home.

This plan of the week definitely features affordable luxury in a family home, with lots of room for expansion.

Plans for Design No. P2-3-215 may be obtained at a cost of $78 for a set of three and $9 for each additional set. Allow $2 to cover postage and handling.

To view more than 100 well-designed quality homes of every type, send for the current publication of "Home Plan Catalogue," available for $2.60 ($2.25 plus 35¢ postage and handling). Saints end season on two line pass

By Larry Mitchell

An obvious two-line pass, that everyone in the arena saw except the two linesmen that are getting paid to see it, resulted in a goal by John Ewasiuk at 15.57 of the third period Monday night and gave Fort Saskatchewan Traders a 5-3 win over the Junior Saints.

It was their second loss to the Fort for the Saints' and their third altogether in the round-robin series. They can now start their summer holidays a little earlier than the Traders who now take on Calgary Canucks in a best of seven series for the Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League championship.

The round-robin series opened last Wednesday night in the Fort with the hometown Traders winning 5-2. Grant Morin scored a pair of goals including the winner midway through the second period. Traders led 3-0 at one time in the second but goals by Dean Dachyshyn and Mark Messier made it 3-2 early in the third. A pair of goals in the last three minutes of the game gave the Traders a 5-2 win.

Ken Bales had a super game in goal for the Saints as he stopped 37 shots compared to only 18 by Clint Malarchuk in the Trader goal.

On Thursday night the Traders travelled to Calgary where the Canucks hung a 6-2 licking on them.

The following night the Canucks were in the St. Albert Akinsdale arena before another sold out crowd and shut out the Saints 5-0 on goals by Dave Speer, Kris Gorborus, Brad Neufeld, Todd Scott and Dennis May. Calgary was in control for most of the game and goaltender Bill Tkachuk was unbeatable in goal as the Saints were shut out for the first time this season.

Sunday night it was back in Calgary for a game with the Canucks in the new Max Bell Memorial Arena and an overtime goal by Gerard Jubinville with 1.16 left gave the Saints a 4-3 win. Ken Solheim, Keith Hertz and Rick Hendricks scored the other St. Albert goals and the win moved the Saints back into playoff contention. They had to beat the Fort by four goals in St. Albert Monday night and they would have been assured a spot against the Canucks.

Gerard Jubinville gave the Saints a 1-0 lead at 4.19 of the first as St. Albert controlled almost the complete period. Grant Morin tied the game at 18.35 of the period with an excellent spin-a-rama goal that Saints goalie Ken Bales had no chance on.

Marty Achtymichuk scored the only goal of the second period and the Fort led 2-1 going into the final 20 minute going into the final 20 minutes of play.

Rick Ripple put the Traders out in front 3-1 at 3.13 of the third and it appeared the Saints were going to fold.

Mickey Volcan, who had played very little to that point, engineered a perfect pass to Barry Brown in front of the Trader goal and Brown made no mistake as he slid it past Malarchuk.

MICKEY VOLCAN

Volcan, on the same shift, scored 17 seconds later to tie the game at 3-3 and the Saints were starting to fly.

Both clubs went end-to-end for the next seven minutes and both goaltenders came up with some excellent saves.

Trader defenseman, Sheldon Geary, deep in his own end zone, fed a long, two-line pass to winger John Ewasiuk and he beat Bales with a slapshot from about 10 feet inside the blueline catching the lower corner of the net.

Referee Dennis Fonteyne did not have a good night and even refused to discuss the two-line pass with his two linesmen when the Saints complained about the goal. Most of his penalties were of the even-up variety as he continually missed the obvious ones and then took turns evening them up on cheap calls.

Saints took 7 of 13 minor penalties and no goals were scored by either team while they enjoyed the powerplay.

The season is now over for the Junior Saints and they can hold their heads high for displaying some excellent Junior Hockey for St. Albert and district fans.

Every playoff game in the new Akinsdale Arena was sold out. It clearly shows that the town fathers had their heads stuck in the sand when they built a brand new facility with less seats than the old arena.

Comets advance in Provincial play

St. Albert Comets travelled to Fort McMurray Friday for the second game of their two-game total-goal series and although they lost the game 4-3 they won the series eight goals to six as a result of a 5-2 win in the first game.

Only 14 players made the trip while the hometown G.C.O.S. Blades dressed 18 and it showed in the third as the Blades scored a pair of goals and outshot the Comets 21 to 13.

Carey Winquist had a strong game in goal for the Comets who received goals from Perry Pearn, Rich Perrault and Larry Stewart.

St. Albert was assessed 14 of 25 penalties called including a misconduct to Perry Pearn with 22 seconds left in the game.

Blades outshot St. Albert 44 to 33.

St. Albert will now advance to the Alberta Intermediate "B" final against either Red Deer or Enoch Tomahawks.

No dates have been set for the two game series except that it must be completed by April 9.

In Intermediate "A" playoffs Sherwood Park Barons will now meet Stans Trojans from Calgary in the provincial final. Barons took out Stettler while Trojans defeated Stony Plain Eagles 7-2 and won the series by a 14-9 margin.

In Alberta Major Intermediate league play, Sherwood Park Barons won three straight over Camrose Maroons in the semi-finals and will now meet the St. Albert Comets in a best of five series.

Because both teams are still involved in provincials the league playoffs will probably not start until sometime next week.

Volcan runner up in provincial play

Sixteen year old defenseman/forward Mickey Volcan of the St. Albert Junior Saints finished a strong second in the balloting for the Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League rookie of the year.

Dave Babych of the Fort Saskatchewan Traders was voted rookie of the year by the league and is the brother of Wayne Babych of the Portland Winterhawks.

Volcan played all 60 games for the second place Saints and was runner up in goals (28), assists (40) and points (68), just six behind Mark Messier.

Portland Winterhawks also feel highly about Volcan and he is now with them in the Western Canada Hockey League playoffs which start tonight.

Six Saints move into playoffs W.C.H.I.

St. Albert Junior Saints Coach Doug Messier advised the Gazette last night that six of the Junior Saints have been picked up by teams in the Western Canada Junior Hockey League for the playoffs which started last night in Medicine Hat.

Darrell Morrow, Ken Solheim and Pierre Lamoureux were picked up by Medicine Hat Tigers for their playoffs with Lethbridge Broncos that got underway Tuesday night.

Portland Winterhawks added Mickey Volcan, Jay McFarlane and Mark Messier to their roster and all will be in the line-up for tonight's game with Victoria.

Midget Raiders bow to Barrhead in Provincials

The St. Albert Integrated Building Raiders ran into a "road block" in their quest for a Provincial Midget title.

After sidelining Enoch and Mayerthorpe, the locals were bested by Barrhead to the tune of 10-7 in two-game total-goal series.

A come-from-behind 6-5 victory for the Raiders early last week at the Akinsdale Arena set the stage for the Barrhead home game, but St. Albert came out on the short end of a 5-1 score.

In Highway 14 league finals, plans are currently underway trying to schedule a best of three series between the Raiders and Vegreville. In semi-final action, St. Albert ousted Fort Saskatchewan several weeks ago.

They have been patiently waiting to play the winner of the Sherwood Park - Vegreville series, and it was learned this week Sherwood Park defaulted after attempts to complete this series "went up in flames."

St. Albert 6 - Barrhead 5

Playing at home, one would have thought the Raiders would have "come out flying." However, the visitors had a pretty good game plan in mind, and forechecked the locals tenaciously resulting in miscues in the St. Albert end and a 3-0 Barrhead lead.

MARK FRASER
Finishing Season In High Gear

The Raiders were able to turn things around for most of the last two periods, and came back twice from three goal deficits climaxed by a last minute game winner by Shane Antoniuk.

Rob Tooth scored twice with singles coming from the sticks of Kurt Bokenfohr, Cliff Greening and Derek Warmington.

Please Turn to Page 29

The St. Albert Junior Saints season came to an end Monday night in St. Albert as the Fort Saskatchewan Traders skated to a 5-3 win to advance to the A.J.H.L. best of seven finals with the Calgary Canucks. Trader goaltender Clint Malarchuk was equal to the task on a close-in shot by Darrell Morrow (12) that bounced wide. Sheldon Geary (on ice) and Greg Skoreyko (10) look on with defenseman Dave Babych.

Kinsmen playoff hockey scene

The 1977-78 St. Albert Kinsmen Minor Hockey season came to an end last week with all divisions having their championship games played with some outstanding hockey played and some upsets along the way.

SHAVER "A"

Pennant winning Lions Breakfast Club opened their best of three series with second place Sturgeon Auto Body Bruins and came up with a 3-1 win. The Bruins however came alive in the second game and upset the Lions by a 2-1 score and the following day duplicated the score to win 2-1 and the Shaver "A" title.

SHAVER "B"

Second place Premier Esso Extras upset pennant winning Boston Pizza 8-4 in the opening game of the "B" playoffs but could not contain the Pizza team in the second game as they lost 6-2. The deciding game was played Tuesday with Premier Esso coming up with a well played 2-1 win and the Shaver "B" title.

MITE "A"

Johnston Meat Cleavers, first place finishers in regular season play came up with a 5-0 win in the final over Sturgeon Sod Busters to take the Mite A crown. Danny Laplante paced the winners with a pair of goals while Bruce Friar and Mike Fekette shared the goaltending duties to earn the shutout.

MITE "B"

Third place Buxton Eager Beavers pulled off an upset in the Mite "B" finals as they defeated league leading Granadon Vikings 2-1 in the final game. The two teams were tied 1-1 after regulation time and with the goalies pulled on both teams, Bruce Landsborough scored into the open net for the winning goal.

PEEWEE "A"

Peewee A division champion is the Willowbrook Saints after defeating the St. Albert Glass and Mirror Smashers in a hard fought three game series. The first game w won 5-2 by the Saints w goals scored by D. Neil and P. Murphy for the Smashers and G. Ewuk, A. Christenion, D. Price and R. Pouliot (two goals) for the Saints. The second game was 2-1 for the Smashers with D. Clark scoring for the Saints and D. Neil and D. Carlson scoring for the Smashers. The final game was 1-0 for the Saints with D. Price scoring the series winner.

During regular season play the top scorer in Peewee A was Don Neil of the Smashers with 19 goals and 25 assists. The top goaltender was Kevin Shoults of the Winnebago Warriors.

PEEWEE "B"

Peewee B division champion is the St. Albert Bottle Depot Returners defeating the St. Albert Legion two games to one in the best of three final. The Legion won the first game 2 to 1 with goals scored by S. Black of the Returners and B. Webber and R. Plain for the Legion. The Returners won the next two games by scores of 4-3 and 5-0 to win the series. Goals were scored by D. Durand (two goals) and D. Larison for the Legion and G. Mowbrey (five goals), S. Black (two goals) and G. Akitt (two goals) scoring for the Returners.

The top scorer during regular season play in Peewee B was Allister Barteski of the Sturgeon Martinizing Sharks with 25 goals and 19 assists. The top goalies were Tim Friesen and Mark Hagen of the St. Albert Bottle Depot Returners.

MIDGET

Photo-I-Dent Passports finished the regular season schedule in second place but came on in the finals as they lost their opener (4-3) to league leading LBH Builders but then won the second game 6-2 and shutout the Builders 3-0 in the final.

Unfortunately the other winning teams did not get their game results into the Gazette at press time and the results should be available for next week's edition.

Midget A Provincial Tournament Schedule

FRIDAY, MARCH 31 - 5:30 p.m. Fort Saskatchewan J & M's vs Lethbridge Elks. 8 p.m. - St. Albert Sportshop Barons vs Grande Prairie Knights.

Saturday, April 1 - 9 a.m. Medicine Hat Cable Vision Legionnaires vs St. Albert Sportshop Barons. 2 p.m. Lethbridge Elks vs Red Deer Optimist Chiefs. 8 p.m. Medicine Hat Cable Vision Legionnaires vs Grande Prairie Knights.

Sunday, April 2 - 9:30 a.m. Red Deer vs Fort Saskatchewan; 3 p.m. Runner up of Division 1 vs runner up Division 2. 8 p.m. Winner Division 1 vs winner Division 2.

All games in the new Akinsdale Arena.

This tournament will decide the top Midget A club in Alberta. Each team involved in the single round-robin represents a zone. Camrose, the zone 7 representative, will not take part in this tournament because they felt they would not be competitive. In league action this year, the Camrose team managed only one tie in 30 starts.

Arsenal coach coming to Edmonton for soccer clinic

A grant from the department of Parks, Wildlife and Recreation has enabled the Alberta Soccer Federation to bring Roger Thompson, assistant coach of Arsenal, the perennial English First Division power, to Edmonton for coaching clinics running from June 1 to 23.

Thompson will be involved in instructing the level II and III clinics for the second year running.

St. Albert will be holding soccer coaching clinics in the near future with the dates to be announced soon.

Self-defence for women offered here

Here's a chance to build your confidence and get into shape at the same time.

Through a stroke of good fortune the City's Recreation Department has obtained the services of Rocky Jubinville, a former RCMP unarmed combat instructor and outdoor recreation expert.

Rocky described the course which he will begin instructing April 3, as a general course stressing basic guidelines geared to fun and fitness as well.

He was quick to emphasize that women who take the course will not be throwing people twice their size around the room. The idea is to utilize the attackers own movements against him (or her). One advantage the 'victim' often has going for her is the fact attackers most times will revert to movements which he used during his youth (i.e. head locks, bear hugs, arm twist, etc.). Knowing this, the women can be taught to react in an effective way that will stop the attacker and allow them to escape

Rocky, a solid 200 lbs. at 6' 2", says small people have an advantage in a grappling situation because of their low centre of gravity. If a woman uses this to her advantage and keeps a cool head, chances are excellent she will be able to slip the grasp of her attacker and make her get-away. More information regarding registration for the classes appears in the City's advertisement on this page.

The other course that Rocky and Recreation Director Rich Mercier have been able to put together which will begin April 4 is a 'Firearms Safety Clinic.'

The emphasis in these clinics will be on firearms safety throughout the entire household where the majority of accidents happen. Many accidents also occur in times of good visability, low wind (noise factor) and while cleaning guns. And most of these accidents are the result of amateurs handling firearms, very few professional gun users have accidents.

The course will also be of benefit to people who don't own or use firearms. The accent is on defense and, whether you are in possession of a firearm or in contact with someone who is, its a smart idea to know how one should act when in contact with firearms.

Mr. Jubinville has a great deal of experience in the use of firearms and is a qualified gun safety instructor.

He referred to the great number of accidents and deaths which occur when children play with guns around the home and the fact that TV violence tends to dull the realization of the consequences of careless use of firearms. With the clinics Rocky hopes to drive the point home minus the ugly ending so often a part of carelessness.

The clinics, registration forms for which appear elsewhere on this page, will run each Tuesday in April.

Mr. Jubinville's background is really quite incredible. He has travelled worldwide in his quest to promote various forms of recreation in the outdoors and brings with him letters of reference from cabinet ministers, a prime minister, Olympians, and his long time associate, Al Oeming of Alberta Game Farm fame. He has lectured at several universities and colleges across North America and around the Pacific Rim.

He has extensive experience organizing recreational programs for organizations ranging from the RCAF, to Indian Affairs, Notre Dame and the YMCA.

For five years he was head of the New Zealand Y before returning to his native Canada

He is dedicated to a philosophy of recreation and believes it holds the answer to many problems of youth generally associated with having 'nothing to do'. His ability to lead and communicate with all groups, especially youth, is highly respected by those who know him and should prove to be a major asset for our community as more programs are developed in a wide range of activities.

Those who will benefit most from Rocky's approach to recreation are, (in the words of his friend, Al Oeming), "the public that desire more from life than sitting in an easy chair ... and that is most of us."

Rocky Jubinville and Recreation Director Rich Mercier looked over several of the projects Rocky has been involved in in the recreational field. Many of them could very well end up becoming part of a more comprehensive outdoor recreation program offered by our city.

N.C.A. baseball league to expand

By Paul R. Riopel

Coaches and managers from many senior baseball clubs in this area have already begun planning and speculating about the upcoming baseball season.

However, with the North Central Alberta baseball League's annual meeting less than a week away, none are more concerned or excited than those new coaches and managers who will be pressing the board of governors to accept their clubs into the League for the 1978 season.

The N.C.A.B.L., in its eleventh year of operation, will be welcoming bids from at least two, possibly three new clubs this season. Should these be approved, and should all eight clubs renew their applications for the current season, the N.C.A.B.L. would be looking at the largest league membership since the early 70's when, with two divisions, the league counted about eleven clubs.

A young all-star bison club from Westlock, represented by Mr. Laurie Maxwell, will be one of the hopefuls. This same club will be hosting the Western Canadian Bison Championships in Westlock later in August.

Some interest has also been shown from a group represented by Mr. Rene Paul of Alexander, home of the Braves, and of a one-time baseball dynasty.

Inquiries have also been received from Gibbons and Waskatenau, however, it would be mere speculation at this point to think that a serious representation from these areas would be made.

The N.C.A.B.L. will be meeting at 7:30 p.m. on April 3 in the Board Room of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Building in Morinville.

Some of the items on the agenda include the study of a proposal for the adoption of a standard baseball for League play as well as of two additional player awards for 1978.

As is usual, teams will be required to register their core umpires as well as their dates for League Sanctioned Tournaments.

New applications will be required to make a presentation before the board of governors which includes a description of their proposed uniforms, playing field, and financial situation.

For further information regarding the pre-conditions for entry into the North Central Alberta Baseball League, any interested party could address himself to the Commissioner of the N.C.A.B.L. by telephoning 939-4744.

Sailfish Registration

Don't forget the registration and annual meeting of the St. Albert Sailfish Swim Club to be held next Wednesday, April 5 in the Percy Page Centre. Things get underway at 8 p.m. in the Centre located at 13 Mission Avenue.

Peewee Saints lose in overtime

The R.M.C. Sport Centre Saints came close but were defeated 4-3 in overtime in the final game of a one day tournament in Wetaskiwin on Saturday.

The tournament, attended by teams from Bashaw, Innisfail, St. Albert and Wetaskiwin was a good test and the Saints rose to meet it.

St. Albert defeated Innisfail 4-2 in their first game on goals by Todd Carnelley, Scott Rusnak, Dave Findley and Dean Bosch backed up by strong defensive play and the sturdy goaltending of Scott Neil.

The final game played between Wetaskiwin and the RMC Sport Centre Saints proved to be a near repitition of a close 8-7 Saints victory in an exhibition game two weeks earlier.

Wetaskiwin led 1-0 on a goal by Hogg until 17.18 of the first period when Todd Carnelley scored for St. Albert. Dave Findlay tipped in a hard shot by Ole Graversen which gave the Saints the lead at 15.01 of the second frame.

Wetaskiwin scored twice in the third stanza to go ahead 3-2. The Saints fought back and Ole Graverson scored at 15.04 to send it into overtime.

The overtime period was a seesaw battle going end for end until Wetaskiwin scored at 7.39 of the period.

It was a fine game and the spectator and supporters from St. Albert were hoarse when they returned and pleased with the boys efforts.

Bunny Porowski and team win curling club championship

The St. Albert Ladies Curling Club held their annual banquet, spring meeting and awards night on Wednesday, March 22.

Before the largest crowd ever, President Shirley Fisher conducted the meeting and reviewed a very successful year.

The membership voted to retain the 24 team afternoon league with the variation that the top 12 teams will play Tuesday-Thursday and the bottom 12 teams will play Wednesday-Friday with changes made only if there is a change in sections.

Registration for fall curling will take place in September with advance notice posted in the Gazette.

The slate of officers for the 1978-79 season was passed and the executive will be: President - Glenys Edwards; Vice-President - Dot Lait; Secretary - Marilyn Woytiuk; Treasurer - Karen Schultz; Draw Convenor - Shirley Fisher; Bonspiel Chairman - Ellen Hodgins; Girl's Curling - Vera Neveu; Social Committee - Hilda Crerar, Nelda Rogers, Bernie Norum, Terry Symyrozum; Senior Delegate - Jean Varner; Junior Delegate - Sandy Searle and Zone Representative - Betty McCrum.

The theme for the banquet was the Commonwealth Games with the emblem evident everywhere.

The meal was excellent and much credit should go to Hilda Crerar and her committee for a very enjoyable evening.

Leona Martineau provided a highlight with her music and a sing-along.

The culmination of the evening came with the presentation of awards when the year's efforts were rewarded with some beautiful trophies and plaques.

Coming out on top was the Bunny Porowski rink who, after winning the Wednesday Evening League, defeated the other league winners in a sudden death playoff.

Raiders

Barrhead 5 - St. Albert 1

Barrhead played three periods of hockey similar to the first stanza the night before in St. Albert.

Territorally, the Raiders held their own for the first 20 minutes, but just could not set up for many dangerous scoring chances.

Meanwhile, the home crew took advantage of their opportunities and skated off the ice with a 2-0 lead.

Defenseman Daryl Turnbull scored early in the second, but Barrhead weren't long getting that one back plus a couple more for good measure.

The Raiders had at least one goal (maybe even two) taken away from them when the linesman was in the wrong position at the wrong time, and there were no goal judges "on duty."

The Barrhead netminder also had the goal posts working for him, which added to Raider frustration.

The final stanza did not produce any scoring, and the hosts were able to slow the tempo down and play good positional hockey till time ran out.

In summary, Barrhead were worthy winners, and St. Albert would have required a few breaks to come out on top in this series.

Raider Rebounds - Some of the Raiders will get the chance to "even up" with Barrhead on the baseball diamond. However there is one sour note; our friendly town of the north is better known for its fame on the base paths than on ice .... Manager Jack Greening has worked hard in his position. Don't believe he was guilty all season of "icing the puck" to relieve the pressure

Nu-west Canadians impressive at Fort tournament

St. Albert's entry in the peewee division of the third annual Fort Saskatchewan Elk's Hockey Tournament has earned a final's berth with two decisive victories over the long weekend.

Canadians' first game was a mis-match Friday against the Fort's peewee B rep team, the Lions.

Three players, John Lenz, Emmanuel Viveiros, and Tim Sebastian, picked up nine points each in a 14-0 rout, with Paul Burgess earning the shutout. Other St. Albert goalgetters were: Erin Oor (2), Craig Iseke, and Darryn Ernest. Assisting were: Iseke (4), Willy Plageman, Gordie Gramlich and Ernest.

Despite the high score, it could have been much worse, as the Canadians tend to play better against higher calibre clubs.

This was proven in the second of the Canadians' games. Playing against current league playoff rivals, Sherwood Park Dairy Queen, and perhaps smarting from their recent loss to that club, St. Albert came out skating and checking to an impressive 6-1 win.

As with their last game, this one was penalty studded, and players spent a total of 54 minutes in the 'sin bins'. Again, St. Albert dominated this statistic, totalling 34 minutes of infractions.

Despite this loss of player time on the ice, Canadians' fore and back-checking repeatedly stymied DQ's offensive attempts.

Erin Oor again had a great game, collecting a hat trick, while Emmanuel Viveiros put on a brisk display, scoring twice and assisting two others. One of his goals was a classic, as he deked his way through three DQ players and cleanly beat their goaltender.

Tim Sebastian scored the other St. Albert goal and picked up an assist while assists were credited to Willy Plageman (2), Tony Baller and John Lenz.

Three of St. Albert's goals were scored while shorthanded, but Chris Lane lost what would have been a well deserved shutout on another DQpowerplay, as four of them managed to get free in front of the St. Albert net.

Canadians will play the winner of the Fort Saskatchewan Nickel Kings - K of C Annunciation semi-final. The final game will be at the Fort tonight.

Bantam/Mite soccer tryouts

St. Albert boys interested in playing for the travelling St. Albert soccer teams are invited to take part in tryouts.

Bantam aged players (born 1964-65) will be meeting at the gym in Father Jan Junior High on Mission Avenue from 8 p.m. - 10 p.m. next Tuesday, April 4.

Mite aged players (born 1968-69) will also try out Tuesday between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. As there will be two mite representative teams this year (there will also be two peewee teams) only those players who live west of Highway 2 will take part in Tuesday's tryout. Mites living east of the highway will be called out later.

Juvenile and midget tryouts are currently underway at Rosslyn Junior High in Edmonton (132 Avenue - 113 Street). Any players who wish to play for either of these teams is asked to come out to workout between 10 a.m. and 12 noon Saturdays.

Street racing begins at Speedway Sunday

Edmonton International Speedway will be opening for their eleventh season on April 2, 1978. This years events will feature a full program of street racing and major events.

The street racing begins April 2 and runs every second week through October. Street racing enable the young to take their cars to Speedway, and after passing a safety inspection, compete in five hours of side-by-side racing.

By making the facility available to the youth, it has been proven to cut down the racing on city streets.

The second annual 630 Ched High School Show Down will be running Sunday, April 30. This event is open to high school students only, and in 1977 proved to be a gigantic success with students competing in side-by-side racing action for trophies and prizes.

Special prizes are awarded also to the school showing the best support. The whole idea is to get the kids off the street and on the race track, where racing belongs.

Edmonton International Speedway's special events calendar has many of the nations' top drag racers scheduled to appear in the 1978 season.

The eighth annual pacemaker invitational will be featuring some of the nations top funny cars in side-by-side competition on Sunday, May 14. Competing at this event will be names like: Ed "The Ace" McCullough, Bob Pickett, Gordie Bonin, Mike Miller etc.

Red Roosters Canadian Nationals top fuel open will be the first major nitro-burning top fuel dragster event of the 1978 season.

Qualifying begins Thursday night, May 25 with names like Gary Beck, Jerry Ruth, Hank Johnson, Graham Light, Tom Kaiser, Bob Bruins, Mike Palmer, Ernie Hall, Terry Capp, Jim Bannard, etc. attempting to qualify for the eight car field.

Eliminations begin Friday night, May 26 for the richest purse in Canadian drag racing history; $1,000 per round.

The Boston Pizza Fox Hunt will again be the highlight of the Speedway season with all foxes (girls) admitted free. Featured at the Fox Hunt will be jet dragsters and 280 mph rocket powered funny cars competing under the lights, Thursday, June 22.

The Canada Dry funny car nationals will feature 24 nitro-burning funny cars. This is one of the very few times that one person can see this many funny cars at one time. Some of North America's top drivers and cars will be attending this event on Monday evening, July 31.

The Can-Am challenge will be a true Canadian American confrontation between the best in the U.S., "Big Daddy" Don Garlits from Seffner, Florida and Canada's quickest and fastest; Graham Light. This event will take place Tuesday night, August 22.

The N.H.R.A. world championship series will be one of the most exciting events of the '78 season, with more than 300 division six racers competing for N.H.R.A. championship points.

The event is one of North America's largest and most prestigeous featuring top fuel dragsters, funny cars, pro stocks, pro comps, comp, modified, and super stock cars. It runs September 9 and 10.

Stamp collectors' extravaganza

Local philatelists, better known as stamp collectors, have an opportunity to attend one of Canada's most successful club shows April 8 and 9, when the Edmonton Stamp Club holds its annual Spring Show at the Chateau Lacombe Hotel.

For a small entry fee of 50¢, collectors of all ages, experts and novices, will be treated to a great variety of competitive exhibits, featuring stamps from many countries.

Those interested in adding to their collections will find booths operated by a large number of dealers from Edmonton and from other centres in Canada and the U.S.A.

An exciting feature of this annual event is the stamp auction, which begins at 2 p.m. Saturday, and which consists of 200 lots of fine Canadian and world stamps and postal history.

Last year's auction attracted international attention with the sale of a block of four of the famous Canadian "inverted Seaway" stamps, for a world record price of $16,500. Featured this year will be excellent copies of the well known Penny Black of Great Britain.

Other extras at the show will be slide shows and seminars, a special program for juniors (including stamps for pennies), a display and sales booth from Canada Post, the raffling of a beautiful copy of the Canada 1 penny beaver imperforate (number 4), and the sale of a special show cover.

A banquet, held Saturday evening in conjunction with the show will have as its guest speaker the well known Canadian cataloguer, Robert W. Lyman.

On both Saturday and Sunday, the exhibits and sales areas open at 9 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. Anyone interested in the hobby of stamp collecting is urged to attend.

Potter added a pair and Darcy Granger tallied the other.

In the "B" final of the midgets, Calahoo scored a 4-3 overtime win over Riviere Qui Barre. Carey Noonan scored his second of the game with 4.43 gone in the 10 minute overtime period to give Calahoo the win.

The Calahoo Sports Association will wind up the season this weekend with an eight-team ladies tournament which should provide some frills and thrills as the girls get into action.

Canada and Hungary sign agreement on sport exchanges

A memorandum of agreement signed in Ottawa by representatives of the Canadian and Hungarian governments provides for the exchange of coaches and specialists, the participation of athletes and observers in bilateral and international competitions, as well as for the organization of training camps.

The agreement was initiated last year in Budapest by the Honourable Iona Campagnolo, minister of State, Fitness and Amateur Sport, who signed on behalf of the Canadian government. Signing the agreement for Hungary was Dr. Sandor Beckl, Secretary of State and President of the National Office of Physical Education and Sports of the Peoples Republic of Hungary.

Both parties agree that it is desirable and possible to strengthen and widen sports contacts between the governmental sports organizations, as well as between different national sports federations.

Agreement was also reached on the exchange of experience in the production of sports equipment, the planning and building of sports facilities, as well as the manufacturing of scientific instruments and related technical documentation.

As a result of the agreement, a Canadian gymnastics team will visit Hungary from April 6 - 10.

In June, a canoeing team from Canada will participate in a joint training camp at Hungary.

A gymnastics team from Hungary will participate in the Toronto Cup competitions in Toronto, November 3 - 5.

Next October, a Hungarian canoeing team will participate in a training camp in Canada.

Area growth studies outcome a let-down for Sturgeon

Recommendations about how future growth should be charted for the Greater Edmonton region have disappointed the MD of Sturgeon.

The recommendations, part of the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission's Growth Studies project have been nearly three years in the making and involved close contact with all the communities in the Edmonton Metro region.

A disappointed MD councillor, Walter Van de Walle asked the regular development meeting of the MD Tuesday afternoon: "Out of it all, what really are the benefits?"

Three main recommendations to emerge out of the studies were that there should be no new satellite towns in Alberta, rather, growth should centre around the towns that already existed.

The studies expressed the need for Edmonton, Sherwood Park and St. Albert to take 60 to 70 per cent of the growth in the foreseeable future.

It was also recommended that the private automobile remain the mainstay of public transportation in the rural areas, but that there should be more emphasis on developing transit systems in the larger urban areas.

Deputy Reeve of the MD Lawrence Kluthe, who, as well as being the chairman of the ERPC, sat on the growth studies committee, said: "I was somewhat disappointed with what came out of it ... the recommendations took too long in coming."

He added: "What you have now is a rather weak conclusion ... that conforms to the growth studies."

At one point during the conversation Mr. Van de Walle said to Mr. Kluthe: "You have made my day, I do not feel too bad about it now."

Morinville industrial park is go

Morinville's industrial park, about one mile and a half south of the town is go.

Approval to sign a development agreement for the quarter section park was given at the regular development meeting of the MD of Sturgeon Tuesday afternoon.

The carrying of the motion from Councillor Clay Crozier means that the developer of the industrial park, Denwell Development Corporation Limited will sign the agreement with the MD, specifically on design of roads, drainage and lot grading.

The park is slated for light industrial use.

Redwater merchant suffers break-in

The Redwater Drug Mart was broken into over the Easter weekend. (At press time the exact time was not ascertained). Entry was made through the back door, which was heavily damaged. A large quantity of soft and hard drugs was taken. The RCMP are investigating the crime, and urge citizens of the area to be on the alert, and report anything that appears suspicious to their office. It seems that Redwater is under a cloud of crime of late, and citizens can greatly ease this problem by being on the watch.

Appeal board likely for Sturgeon

The MD of Sturgeon may go for a development appeal board at its next regular meeting in April.

That was the hint given by MD Development Officer Gary Brownlee at the MD's development meeting Tuesday afternoon.

"In some cases we may have to have that board meet twice a month," the development officer said.

Deputy Reeve of the MD Lawrence Kluthe said: "I suggest we raise it at the next executive meeting."

$½ million extension to Alberta Hospital OK'd

At its regular development meeting Tuesday the MD of Sturgeon approved $1,471,000 in building permits.

Largest permit to get approval was for a $500,000 addition to Alberta Hospital, Edmonton, in the east section of the MD.

The permit was issued subject to the approval of the Alberta Building Standards Branch.

ACFA French immersion forums in Morinville and Legal

With the increasing interest in French language programs in the Morinville and Legal areas over the past year particularly at the early childhood and primary levels, parents are being faced with having to make some very important decisions with respect to the education of their children.

It is also likely that indecision with respect to such programs is largely due to the fact that parents have not had the opportunity to gather up the necessary information and to judge for themselves the merits of such programs as have been recently implemented at the kindergarten level, in both Morinville and Legal.

This is one of the reasons why A.C.F.A.'s regional education committee approached the University of Alberta recently to ask for their help in organizing an educational forum on bilingual education.

This presentation, in English, should be of particular interest to those parents contemplating to send their children to a French immersion kindergarten next year, or who are thinking about Immersion at the primary level for their children next year.

Those parents and young people who are generally interested in acquainting themselves with some of the research conducted in this field also stand to benefit from this presentation.

According to the organizers, the key to a child's learning lies mainly in the interest and concern of parents for quality education for their children.

We can show our children that we care by making wise and conscientious decisions about their future, the kind of decisions which are based upon a ready and valid source of information.

Legal residents are invited to attend the session at the school gymnasium on Tuesday, April 4 at 8 p.m.

Morinville residents are invited to attend the session at the G.P. Vanier school gymnasium on Thursday, April 6, at 8 p.m.

Topics to be covered include: french immersion kindergartens, french immersion at the elementary level, the results of various research programs, opportunities at the post-secondary level and the grant and bursary structure available for high school students wishing to further their education in this area.

Ag columnist asks for help

By Bill Story

Bill Story is a farmer, broadcaster, writer and lecturer based in Saskatoon. His regular newspaper column of March 20 was circulated to other provinces as well in support of the Shiplack farm family in Candiac, Saskatchewan.

I was ten. I had a brother 14, and sisters 12 and five when our father died. Although I was an authority on everything starting with, "Dad says --- and dad said ---", I didn't know about death and I didn't understand how much we depended on Dad.

Auction sales were foreign to me and I didn't know why Dad's favorite driving mare, wearing her harness and hitched to the 'sunday buggy' was driven out of the yard by a man unknown to me. I didn't know why all the cows were sold, --- all except Big Spotty.

The easy-to-milk cow and a box of hens were all that was 'taken to town' when we moved off the farm to live in a dilapidated house in the nearby town. The farm just disappeared, and when I hung my overalls on a nail in the clothes closet, I wasn't reminded by our mother, "hang them on the little nail. The big nail is for your father's mackinaw."

We had been "building an empire," our father had said, but it crumbled because, although there were plows and harrows and a seeder and many cows and pigs and horses, there were also mortgages and notes. I knew all about the big team, Betty and Maud; about multi colored-Molly the sow, and I knew about Ramsey the bull and I knew about money for crow's eggs and gopher tails, but I had never heard the words "debts and financial commitments."

It was rough. I walked four miles to the farm quite often and cried on the way back because the pigpen was empty and sparrows dirtied on the floor of the house when they got in through a broken window. My dog Happy didn't like it in town and the neighbours had to bring him back several times, tied behind the wagon.

It was tough times for my widowed mother with a family of four.

This column, Our Industry of Agriculture usually deals with the business of farming, commentary and explanations and about research being carried out, and concluding with remarks called A Storyism, many of which come to me as I work around my own farm where I have cows and pigs and a stoneboat and a fat panting dog I call Happy.

This week it is different. This is an appeal for money.

Fred Shiplack, a Candiac

Morinville Lions Club President, Ed Natrass, presented the Morinville Ambulance crew with a new portable Leardal Vacuum Unit last week. The new unit will replace the cumbersome unit now in use which works off the vehicles vacuum system. The suction produced by the unit is used to clear breathing passages and in the opinions of Ambulance Attendants, Joanne Bugnet (left) and Mike Hogue (right), it is as important as an oxygen unit. The Morinville Lions have been very active with the ambulance service since its initial drive to inception in 1976.

DUBROMINSKI

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Lena Dubrominski for the loss of her husband Walter who passed away Monday morning, March 20, in his 76th year. He was born in Poland in 1902. After coming to Canada he met and married Mrs. Dubrominski in 1938. He was well liked and known in the Coronado and Redwater area. Besides his wife he leaves to mourn brothers in Poland and a sister who visited here last summer, and lives in France. The Dubrominskis resided in the Golden Villa Senior Citizens Home. Funeral was held in St. Clare's Catholic Church, March 22 at 10 a.m.

Redwater Sports

By James Neufeld

The skate-a-thon was held on March 12 in conjunction with the Winter Carnival, and helped bring in $2,465.40 so far, with about nine hundred dollars still oustanding. People are reminded to remit their pledges. Sixty-two skaters took part this year in raising the money which is used for the cost of ice time, equipment, and uniforms for the Minor Hockey Association.

Winners were: Lena Schmur, Derryl Schesnuk, Angela Levesque, Dale Hawn and Lynda Nymchuk. Many thanks to all those who helped support this worthy, community cause.

SHAVERS TOURNAMENT

The Shavers tournament was held last week in Redwater with five teams competing: Riviere Qui Barre, Lamont, Morinville, Bon Accord and Redwater. The Redwater Shaver A's were runners up in the A event, losing out to Bon Accord, which took top honors. Morinville cleaned up in the B event, with Lamont taking the runner up spot. Riviere Qui Barre was awarded the good sportsmanship trophy.

All awards were donated by Halanon Construction. Ice time was looked after by the Redwater Legion Auxiliary. The Imperial Production Department sponsored the team this year, which was coached by Victor Pasay. The Shavers would like to thank all those that made it possible for them to play this year.

CURLING

Grand Aggregate winners of the year in Ladies Evening Curling were: Skip - Barb Budney, 3rd - Joan Chaba, 2nd - Denise Warawa and Lead Sophie Goeckel.

A Event winners in Ladies Evening Curling were: Skip - Audrey Hrynchuk, 3rd - Val Whitson, 2nd - Michelle Lawrence, and Lead - Joanne Logozar.

Redwater Legion and Auxiliary News

The big news to come out of the regular meeting held on March 21 was the election of a secretary for the Auxiliary - Mrs. Irene Vietch. The "Farmers Market" sponsored by the Auxiliary has been quite successful in the past and the next one will be held on April 8 from noon till 4. Many organizations rent a table on which they display and sell their wares. These could range from fresh produce to a "white elephant sale." So be sure and come out and have lunch while browsing through the tables. Remember the date - April 8.

If you are interested in displaying anything - from houseplants to spring clean-up cast-aways, and want to rent a table contact Irene at 735-3010 or Ann evenings only at 735-3582 for price and location in Legion Hall.

The Thursday night bingos are being well attended, but the whist drive evenings are still slow. If you are interested in card playing followed by a light lunch with friends and neighbours come to the last whist drive, for the summer months only, to be held April 6. See you there?

By the time you read this the Redwater Legion will have held its first Social evening, Friday, March 31 for the season. It is hoped this will be a bi-monthly affair, every other Friday. If you enjoy an evening with friends, playing cards, dancing, or just partaking of the refreshments do come out and join us and support your legion.

Speaking of support the Redwater Legion Auxiliary made a substantial donation to the Minor Hockey Association. President Mable Cook gave the cheque to the Shavers hockey team's A and B coaches Victor Pasay and Rick Morgan on behalf of the Auxiliary.

The next regular meeting of the Legion and the Auxiliary is the third Monday of the month - April 17. This will be followed by a social evening. Be sure and attend, and bring that friend along that's been meaning to join.

This organization keeps a hall operating for the use of everyone and we need your help with expenses. We don't ask for a donation just your support. So come out to Legion and Auxiliary sponsored functions and support us to keeping the hall in repair and operating for your use.

If you have any news items that you would like to appear in the Gazette, kindly contact our representative Mrs. Neufeld at 735-3518.

Goldenagers meet in Gazebo

By Liz McLeod

On Wednesday, March 22, 27 senior citizens of Calahoo and Onoway gathered for the afternoon in the Gazebo.

It was nice to see Tom and Rose Callihoo come from the city, to enjoy their former neighbours and friends also.

Bridge, cribbage and whist are the most popular card games played, unless there are more than four people and then Hearts, seems to be the game of choice.

There was a short meeting called and President Mrs. G. Elsie Berry informed all that she had the tickets for the annual supper-dance that the Sturgeon Recreation sponsor for the senior citizens at the Red Barn. This year the date is set for Wednesday, May 31.

There were also tour sheets passed around for the purpose of determining how many would be interested in short trips and day tours throughout this summer.

BINGO PLAYED

When 3 p.m. rolled around it was time for all to join in an hour of playing bingo, after an always hearty lunch was enjoyed.

This day the birthday recipients were Mrs. J. Dena Groppe and Mrs. Elsie Smathers, both of Calahoo, who each brought a birthday cake which was enjoyed by all present. Then all of those with birthdays in March, Mrs. Clara Loyer, Mr. Tom Campbell, Dena and Elsie remained seated while the rest rose and sang to them. Antonia Christen was absent for her birthday tribute.

We were also happy to know that Mr. Fred Labonte is home from his month's stay in the Misericordia Hospital. In addition, all the Calahoo Goldenage members are wishing their fellow member, Mr. Glenn Berry, a speedy recovery, now that he is in the Misericordia Hospital.

The next meeting of this club will be held on Wednesday, April 12 at 1 p.m. and visitors are always welcome.

MRS. JEAN SAMORIDNY

Jean Samoridny of Redwater dies at 62 years of age

On March 17, 1978, Mrs. Jean Samoridny passed away at 62 years of age. Jean Bachul was born in Bellis, Alberta, on May 7, 1915. Her family farmed in the area until 1932 when her father passed away. On February 25, 1933 she married William Samoridny, and they lived in the Andrew area until her mother passed away, in 1941. The family then moved to Kenora, Ontario, and then to Edmonton in 1943. In 1974, Mr. and Mrs. Samoridny left Edmonton and moved to Redwater, Alberta, where they had many friends. She was active in the Redwater Pioneer Club, and enjoyed many good times there, with her friends.

She is survived by her loving husband, William Samoridny of Redwater, four daughters, Mrs. Gordon Atkey (Mary) of Edmonton, Mrs. Arthur Yeske (Nancy) of Namao, Mrs. David Gourlay (Margaret) of St. Albert and Mrs. Lillian Nash of Edmonton. Also nine grandchildren and one great granddaughter. One brother George Bachul of Kenora, Ontario also survives.

Funeral services were held March 21 from Park Memorial with Rev. Keith Harrison officiating. Interment was in Beechmount Cemetery.

Waugh News

By M. J. Marchak

The community extends sincere sympathy to Leon Zilinski and Raymond on the loss of their wife and mother, who passed away on March 5.

The re-upholstery course held here recently was most successful. Everyone who took the course was well satisfied and on the final day of the course there were some lovely pieces of furniture upholstered. Many thanks to the Half Moon Lake Community Centre for the use of their hall for the workshop.

The R.C. Parish and Polish Hall Society thank everyone who came to their annual perogy supper on March 5, and helped to make it a success. Our gratefulness and sincere thanks go to the following donors of prizes for the Italian auction, etc: - Starr Implements, Westlock; Mrs. Henry Pecek Sr., R.R. 1 Vimy; Mrs. Anna Marchak, Thorhild; W.W. district farmer died recently in Regina, Saskatchewan following an altercation relative to the business of farming and the incident has, for the past several weeks, received much coverage in the press.

Back on the farm at Candiac are the widow and seven children. The eldest is a teen-ager. The Shiplacks are ready and willing to carry on farming and although I do not know the family I do know about a widow and the empire that didn't get built because of 'financial commitments'.

My employers, CFQC radio-TV, Saskatoon have started a fund for the Shiplack family and Our Industry of Agriculture is suggesting you may be ABLE and interested in contributing to the fund.

Cheques or money-orders made to Shiplack Trust Fund may be sent to CFQC radio-TV, Saskatoon -- or to Bank of Nova Scotia, 1448 2nd Avenue, Saskatoon. Receipts for the charitable donations will be mailed from CFQC, Saskatoon. We have a charming little lady who will mail a receipt the day your cheque arrives.

A STORYISM: The widow Shiplack and her brood r ready and willing. Plea help in making them able.

STURGEON MINOR SOCCER

Soccer is one of the most rising sports in North America today. Some of the main reasons for this is that soccer can be played without spending great amounts of money and it is one of the best sports for conditioning.

Much interest for Soccer has been generated in the Eastern towns of Sturgeon and because of this a Minor Soccer Association is going to be formed. The first general meeting for this Association is on Thursday, March 30, 1978, 7:30 p.m. at the Sturgeon Regional Recreation office.

The next action of the Elite Carpet Blades will be against Gibbons and in the provincial tournament in Grimshaw.

Anderson wins Morinville Ladies Curling League

By Margaret Yacyshen

The Morinville Ladies Curling Club held a wind-up meeting last Wednesday at which the results of the 77-78 curling season were announced.

The league winners were the members of the Jackie Anderson rink from St. Albert with third Janet MacKenzie, second Shelley Fenton and lead Terri-Jo Anderson. Anne Kryskow presented the team with the Morinville Trailer Park trophy.

The Jan Reeves rink of Morinville received a set of crying towels. Ladies Curling Club President Jeanie Kachman presented Helen Rousseau with a gift in appreciation of her extra work for the club.

Details of the Ladies Mid-Summer Bonspiel were announced. The dates are June 5, 6, 7, 12, 13 and 14 with the finals to be played on June 18. The fee is $80 per rink and entries are being taken by Shelley Parko at 939-4071.

Brownie Easter Bonnet Parade

BY Carol Kubica

The First Morinville Brownie Pack held its annual Easter Bonnet Parade on Wednesday, March 22 at the Recreation Centre.

The three judges, Father Primeau, Mrs. Hubert and Mrs. Daignault had a very hard time judging the girls' bonnets.

The winners were: 1st prize - Most Original, Sonia Unrau; 2nd prize - Neatness, Kathy MacDonald; 3rd prize - Spring Theme, Melaine Locker.

All the guests enjoyed the tea which was served by the girls.

Members of the Brownie Pack and their leaders would like to thank all those who attended.

Gibbons News

By Karen Hogg

Congratulations to the Gibbons Marlos for defeating Calahoo 10-2 on Friday night in Gibbons in a jam packed arena! Good luck on Tuesday night in Calahoo. If the seniors win on Tuesday night they will have won the complete series, but if they lose they will be playing another game. Good luck!

Due to time and lack of interest, the Sturgeon Recreation Week in Gibbons has been cancelled.

On April 14 the Gibbons Marlos senior hockey club will be holding a dance in the Rim.

The Old Timers Hockey Association will be holding a hockey tournament in the arena this weekend. This will be the last tournament to take place this year. The ice will be taken out starting on April 4. Next items to look forward to are Farmers' Markets and Agri Fair in June.

Mystery and illusion will abound in Gibbons on May 27 when the Great Danny Tremoyne will stage a magic show in the Gibbons Hall at 8 p.m. The world's youngest female magi will also be present to participate in the magical evening. Tickets can be bought at the door or by phoning 923-2046.

There will be a Dance Marathon sponsored by the Teen Club on Friday, March 31 from 6 - midnight at the Rim. For sponsor sheets call Kim at 923-2839 or Terri at 923-2501. Prizes will be awarded.

Bon Accord News

By Sadie Allen

Sturgeon Valley Fish and Game Association will hold an executive meeting at the home of Ken New, 5223 - 47 Street on Wednesday, March 29 at 7:30 p.m. An expert on moose will be guest speaker at the social evening being held at the Bon Accord school on Thursday, April 13 at 8 p.m. Mr. Gerry Lynch, a Wildlife Biologist, will be presenting a series of slides and information on moose and their habits which he has compiled through 10 years of research. Plan to attend this very informative meeting. Remember, everyone is welcome -- bring a friend.

Anglican Church Women met at the home of Mrs. Hilda Milligan on Wednesday, March 22. The club is planning a Mother's Day tea for Saturday, May 13, from 2 - 4 p.m. Pie, tea or coffee will be served and an abundance of home baking will be on sale. Keep this date in mind.

The Ladies Community Club will meet at the home of Thalia Critchley on Wednesday, April 5 at 8 p.m. Miss Jean Sloan is hostess.

Bingo will resume this Sunday at 7:30 p.m. with a jackpot of $300 in 56 numbers up for grabs. Two bonanzas are played as well as 20 regular games.

Golden Gems will hold a Flea Market at the Jewel Box on Sunday, April 2 from 1 - 4 p.m.

The Bon Accord U.C.W. will be holding an "April Showers" spring tea on Saturday, April 8 from 1:30 - 3:30 p.m. in the church basement. There will be a silver collection, a sale of home baking and bazaar items. One special item for sale will be a Cook book, put together by UCW members and friends. Donations of items for the bake table or bazaar may be brought to the church on the Saturday of the tea.

Bon Accord Peewees ended a successful season by finishing second to Alexander in league playoffs. Congratulations to the boys and their coach.

A special thank you is extended to Carol Wyness and Sharon Bodnar for a job well done over the skating lesson season and especially on testing day. You did a fine job.

A very exciting game held on Monday, March 20 saw Bon Accord Mites cap the league championship over Gibbons in two straight. Congratulations to the boys and their coaches, Bryan Critchley and John Shenfield.

Namao News

By Norma Crozier

Sympathy of the district is extended to the family of Harvey Ash who passed away on March 23, 1978 and to Mae and Chester Crozier in the loss of Mae's sister Helen Dyker of Edmonton who passed away on March 24, 1978.

Audrey Gibson enjoyed an Easter vacation trip to Disneyland and California accompanied by Norah Triska.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Horricks are back home from a five week trip in their motor home to California and Arizona where they visited Don's mother.

Get well wishes go to Vernon Carson who is a patient in the Royal Alexandra Hospital and also to Scot Stanton who suffered a broken arm while skiing at Jasper on the weekend.

A shower will be held in the Namao Community Hall on April 6 in honor of Debra Johnston who will be married to Douglas Crozier on April 15.

BINGO

The Namao 4H Beef Club is holding a bingo on April 4, 1978 at the Namao Hall at 7:30 p.m. It will be $1.50 for the first two cards, additional cards will be 25¢. There will be 20 miscellaneous game prizes and door prizes. There will also be a concession booth. Everyone is invited for an evening of fun and fantastic prizes. This is a fund raising project to aid the club in the purchase of a new Banner.

Namao School and Community League will hold their annual meeting on Tuesday, April 25 at 8 p.m. in the Hub. A change of the year end will be discussed at this meeting.

Horse Hill News

By Esther Wallbank

A successful registration for boy's baseball and girls fastball was held this past week and the sports committee is busy lining up coaches. A fastball umpires clinic, sponsored by Sturgeon Regional Recreation has been announced for April 22. Meetings were scheduled in Morinville for March 28 and 29 to get everything underway. For information call Stan Adams at 973-5872 or Duane Watrin at 973-3565.

Tickets for the family dance on April 15 are available from Willy Lobner, 973-5822 or Mel Kinsey, 973-3879 at $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. This is the first time a live orchestra is being employed at a family dance and there will also be prizes, food and refreshments.

Don't forget the short course "Introduction to Metrics" on Monday, April 3, 7:30 - 10:30 p.m. Registration fee will be $2.

A course in quilting is planned to begin in April so if you are interested, please call Peggy at 973-5783 or Barb at 998-2739.

Mark May 6, the date of the annual Mother's Day tea and bazaar on your calendar. Tables will be available to people who wish to sell items at the tea. Anyone interested in attending a workshop to make items for the bazaar, please call Peggy or Barb at the above numbers, or Kay Gogerla at 973-3081.

Sympathy is extended to Evelyn Henderson, Gwen and Eric, and Shirley and Neil on the passing recently of husband and father, Archie Henderson, resident of this area for many years.

Congratulations to Vernon and Anna Melsaac who are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. Their family invited friends, relatives and neighbours to an open house and tea in their honor on Sunday, April 9 from 2 - 5 p.m. at the Lamoureux Hall.

A bridal shower for Miss Shirley Dykstra was held on March 18 at the home of her future sister-in-law, Lynne Jewell, with over 30 people present. Shirley grew up in the Coronado district and attended school in Gibbons. Shirley, and David Speer will be married on April 22 and will reside in Edmonton. A stag was held for David the same evening as the shower.

A warm welcome, or welcome back, in Lynne's case, to Lynne and Terry Jewell who have recently moved into their new home near that of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Speer, Lynne's parents.

HORNETS STUNG

The Hornets record this past week was two losses and one win. Sunday, March 19 they lost to the Sturgeon Stingers by a score of 5-4 and Thursday, to the Gibbons Flyers. 9-3. Tuesday, however, they scored a big win when they beat Bon Accord 4-3. It was the first time they defeated Bon Accord all season. We regretted to learn that the leg injury suffered by George Mullen in an earlier game was indeed serious, as his ankle was broken in two places.

Hornets wind up their season with a tournament this weekend. Their first game is at 9 p.m. on Thursday, March 30, against the Sturgeon Stingers, rather than Friday, as previously stated. There are no games scheduled for Friday, and action continues Saturday and Sunday. There is a pass available, good for the whole tournament at a cost of two dollars. The league winds up officially with a dance for all clubs the following weekend, and they expect a good attendance and good fellowship.

In the freezing Russian winter, the snow acquires a hard glaze that enables Muscovites to ice skate along the pathways winding through the 275-acre Gorky Park in Moscow, National Geographic says.

A hundred holidays, or even a few odd revolutions, can hardly match the yearly excitement of the four-day Carnival in Rio de Janeiro. For months before, rival samba schools cut and stitch costumes, hammer thier extravagant floats, and practise over and over. So important is Carnival that for safety the sale of alcohol is restricted, National Geographic reports.
